REVOLUTION

As a new year rolls around, with changes evident in all aspects of our school, we are faced with a choice. A choice that hangs in front of each of us, whatever our position at Berkeley High. There is no distinction between student and staff in this, for it is a choice that has been with each of us from the beginning of our consciousness. To join the fight for our future or to help destroy it; it's up to each one of us. Our goal with this yearbook is to make you think; to help you make your decision. Because, there are no longer any innocent bystanders here. Everyone is responsible and everyone has a part to play. It's a revolution of thought, in every sense of the word. It's time to challenge ourselves to be more and to do more, to believe more. We need to work together to learn about where we've been, where we're headed and what we can do. There is a bright future ahead if we can do what is necessary to get ourselves there.

The time has come to start taking those steps towards a better understanding of one another and by doing so prepare ourselves for a world in which we all work to make a change. For each and every one of us, it's time to start making a difference.

As the youth, it's our responsibility to do something for the future, to make it the best we possibly can. For the seniors, it's the last chance to make our mark, and to be role-models. For the underclassmen, it's a chance to positively impact your school and your community. For all the staff and community members, it's a chance to work with the youth and each other towards a common and beneficial goal. It's time for the BHS community to unite. We have nothing but the chains that bind our thoughts to lose. We have a world to win.

It's time for the revolution to begin.

Unfortunately for the majority, a small percentage of the freshmen got a small year got a large percentage of the ladies.

ETHNICITY DAY

SPIRIT

Spirit Week started off with Ethnicity Day for the whole school. Students and faculty dressed up in traditional cultural garb to show off their ethnic pride. Although not everyone participated, there were still the devoted few who represented their B-High spirit, among them the class of '98 who reinstated the legendary Toga Day. At lunch, music from the Jewish Hora to the Guatemalan Marimba was played in the courtyard. In addition, several cultural clubs sold ethnic food.

Tuesday was colorful and lively with Tropical day for seniors and Army & Jungle day for underclass. Beach balls, lawn chairs, and leis were everywhere as the seniors went all out, and a few underclassmen could be spotted in fatigue. At lunch, on the field, the obstacle course had a big turnout with each class cheering for their team.

I can't believe Peter is going to do his homework now.

One of the few die hard soldiers, too bad they're underclassmen.

Hot pink, crimped hair, and acid-washed jeans filled the hallways on Wednesday, 80's day, bringing memories of the movie Pretty in Pink. The steps were packed with seniors and their outrageous outfits bumpin' to their boombox music. Amidst the the bright neon colors the underclassmen could be seen wearing crazy hats.

As the lunch bell rang, the school came alive with music and excitement. People gathered in the courtyard and either stood back and watched the crowd or jumped into the heart of the dance floor. They did the limbo, electric slide and disco dance in their platform shoes and leather jackets. Many people got their clothes from vintage shops on Telegraph, Goodwill stores and even their parents' closets. 70's day is definitely one of the most popular and anticipated event of spirit week.

A long standing B-High tradition, as long as 70's day has been around, has been for the guys to dress up as pimps. Their outfits often include canes and thick gold chains, which distinguishes them from the disco boys and the flower children.

Spirit Day finally came with the whole school decked out in red and gold. Shouts of "99", and "2 thou", with the occasional "01" were heard throughout the school as classes tried to compete against the almighty seniors. The highlight of the day was, of course, the rally, where most of B-High was crammed into the Donahue Gym to watch dances and cheer as loud as they can.

HERE ARE JUST A FEW OF THE OUTSTANDING SENIORS THAT WE HAVE CHOSEN TO REPRESENT THE CLASS OF '98

Emma Batten-Bowman has been playing volleyball since the 8th grade. She was on the JV team her freshman year, and then went on to play Varsity the following three years. She has also made All-League First team. When the season is over, she plays club volleyball, which lasts from December to July. She won the Athletic Directors award in '98 for her excellence in volleyball. Additionally, she has been nominated for a prestigious Scholar/Athlete scholarship, one of only two nominations at BHS. Although volleyball is Emma's passion, she has also given countless hours to several volunteer programs. She has tutored for the "I have a dream" program and helped at both Washington Elementary and McGee's Farm preschool as well. She has also been a reading buddy for the Oakland Library.

Even with her devotion to volleyball and volunteer service, Emma has been able to maintain a high level of academic excellence. Her 3.97 GPA shows that she takes school seriously. She isn't sure where she wants to continue her education, but her long-term plans include thoughts about becoming a teacher and/or coach. One thing she is positive about is that she wants to continue to play volleyball.

Ramon Robinson is known to many as "The Preacher." It becomes apparent when talking to him why he wants to become a minister. He is the president of his church's youth group, which has led to a lot of responsibilities in his community. He has had the opportunity to MC several events at his church, and has even been able to give some sermons.

Not only is Ramon involved in his religious community, but he is also involved in the community as a whole. In the school community he serves as the President of ASA (African Student Association), and has helped form the Youth Revival, a series of open forums aimed at understanding the lives of urban youth. He is also on the Oakland police's Crime Fighters for Youth committee.

He has not yet decided on a school to attend after graduation, but he has narrowed down his career preferences to Business Administration or Politics. He has also thought about attending a culinary academy and pursuing his hobby of cooking.

It wasn't until an experience at a summer camp that Ramon realized he was good at public speaking. He had been talking to a group of younger kids at a camp, when he noticed that more and more kept coming over to listen to him speak. After talking to them for a while he realized that he was keeping the attention of young people, a group that tends to get restless and bored when required to sit still and listen.

Ramon had a few things to say to the graduating seniors, things he thought were important to remember when facing the future. He said, "When trials and tribulations come your way, you should know that if you have faith in yourself, everything will come out all right in the end. In order to get to the good times, you must first go through the bad times."

Lorin Kagehiro has been involved in many different activities and programs during her years at BHS. She is currently one of the two Student Body Presidents, a position that takes up a great deal of her time and energy. In previous years, she has played for the BHS women's basketball team, including the year they won the state championship. Recent activities have forced her to leave the team and return to the Asian League she first played in. Lorin is the President of her Buddhist church's youth group as well.

Lorin has also spent many hours volunteering as a teaching assistant at a summer long Japanese cultural exchange, and at Washington Elementary School.

One of Lorin's more impressive achievements is her admittance to Cal Accelerated, a program that allows high school seniors to jointly enroll as Cal Berkeley freshmen. This not only lets her take several classes at Cal a semester, but it also guarantees admittance to Cal once she has graduated from BHS. Lorin plans on taking them up on the offer, and hopes to become either a teacher or child psychologist with the excellent education she will receive from Cal.

Anyone who has had a class with John would think of him as a class clown. But upon seeing him outside of the classroom, it quickly becomes apparent that his classroom antics are just manifestations of his energy and enthusiasm. He is involved in many different aspects of the school, mainly as the bassist in the award winning Jazz combo and ensemble. The bands were asked to play at the Montreaux Jazz Festival in Switzerland and the North Sea Jazz Festival in Holland, so John spent the summer of '97 traveling to those festivals.

Despite his talent with the bass, John's real passion is dance. He started ballet classes when he was in elementary school, but it wasn't until the 8th grade that John realized he loved to dance. He has played virtually every role in the Nutcracker, including the lead, which he has played for the last three years. He has participated in summer ballet programs, including one at New York's American School of Ballet, where he hopes to join the company as he studies Philosophy, Law, or Philosophy of Law at either Fordham or Columbia.

Most BHS students know John from his involvement in Dance Productions. He has been one of few, if any, males to participate in Dance Productions.

John has learned the value of a good education from his involvement in dance, a highly disciplined art. Dance only allows him a limited schedule, often times interfering with classes that he would like to take. He has learned to overcome these restrictions by milking every class he can take for all it's worth. This includes working extra hard during the three weeks a year he is allowed off from dance.

Even people that know her don't realize all the different things that she has done. However, Jamelya Curtis is always doing something to help her community, like the Drug awareness Program and tutoring the youth. She has been in the Computer Academy and Biotechnology Academy as well as holding a part time job at Bayer Corporation in Berkeley. Jamelya has been in the M.E.S.A (Mathematics Engineering Science Achievement) Program for the past 4 years. M.E.S.A. has helped her set her goals which include owning a pediatric office or family clinic. She has also been involved in the Saturday Academy, gone on college tours to Southern California and Senior Retreat, which will help her prepare for college.

Even with all her outside activities she has maintained a 3.93 GPA and still had time to volunteer at the South Berkeley YMCA. Jamelya enjoys spending time with her family, and is hoping to attend Spellman or UCLA in fall of 1998.

Benedict Chu [Chun, Chun- Chak] came to the United States from Hong Kong three years ago. When he came to B.H.S he started out in an ESL class. He was so motivated to learn, that he was in a regular English class by his Junior year. Benedict does not like to just sit around. His experience at Berkeley High has taught him to remain constantly busy.

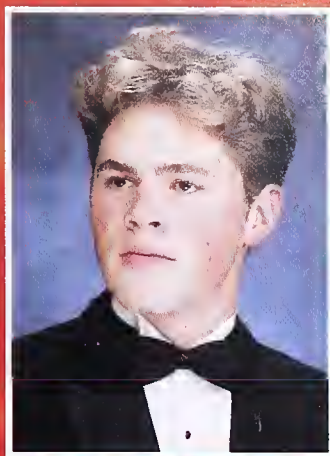

Benedict is taking a math class at U.C Berkeley, because he passed the highest level BHS offers. He is also in Pascal (AP), which is a computer programming class. He has also been a CSF member every year he has been at BHS. Last year he was the President of the Chinese Student Union and a member of the Asian Council. He has shown his leadership in the groups he has been involved in at BHS. Benedict attributes his success with high school and the English language to the help he received from teachers and classmates. In the future he would like to study to become an engineer.

Erica and Monique Rogers are very much alike and at the same time very different. They both have been involved in RAP, M.E.S.A., Computer Academy, and CSF all through high school. These programs have helped them to stay on the right track. They are the type of students that get things done. They have been in N.S.B.E Jr and Erica held the job of treasurer. They have both held a 3.43 GPA and have both volunteered at Californians for justice community outreach work. Erica would like to study law at Howard, and is very interested in becoming a civil rights Lawyer. Monique is more interested in becoming a Master Chef. She has been accepted to the well known California Culinary Academy. Erica and Monique were both in S.O.U.L in 1997 which gave them the skill to organize in their community.

I Remember

I remember, I remember the night.
darkness, shadows.
I remember tossing back and forth
in my bed,
the midnight blue crawling in under the covers with me.
even the moon was black.
cold silence, cold shadows.
I remember quietly slipping out of bed, quietly, so the shadows wouldn't hear
and follow me downstairs.
I remember rosy light,
climbing into my father's lap,
shivering as his warm heart pounded against mine,
his chest vibrating heat.
I remember the bell of the microwave and sipping hot milk from a warm glass with my father's arms around me.
I remember feeling safe, sleeping.

His spresence, like the

His personality, like the golden sun
that shines indefinitely.
His walk, like a

lingering with confidence
among his own.

The Fatty

I'm the fatty
oh yes the fatty
oh yes
oh yes, the fatty.
I'm am the fatty,
the fatty, the fatty

BHS SUMMER WEEKEND

Every license plate should include these two numbers.

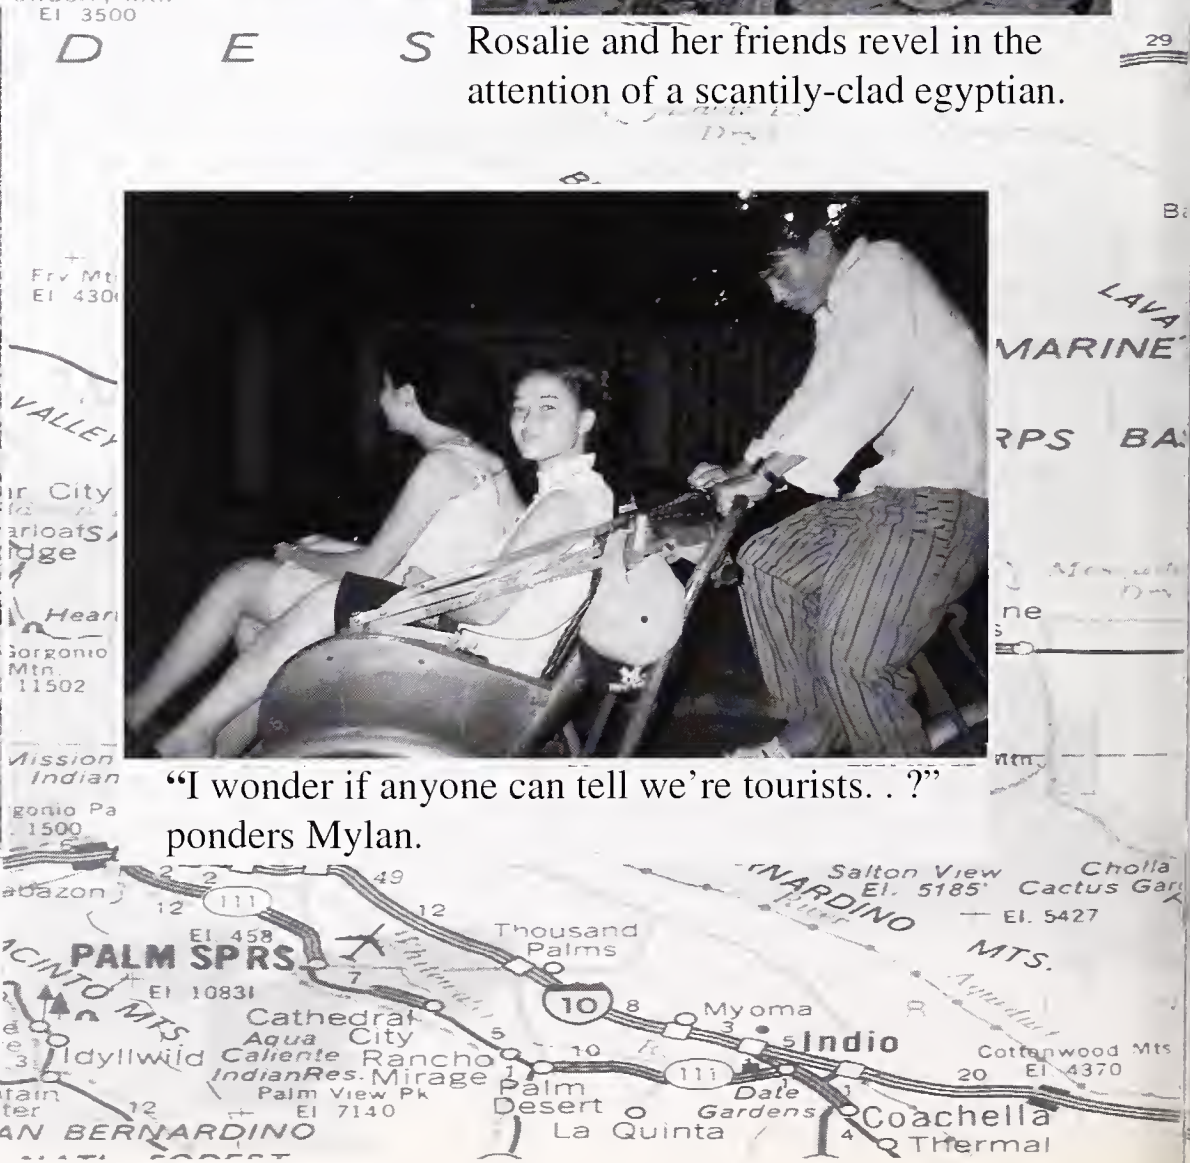

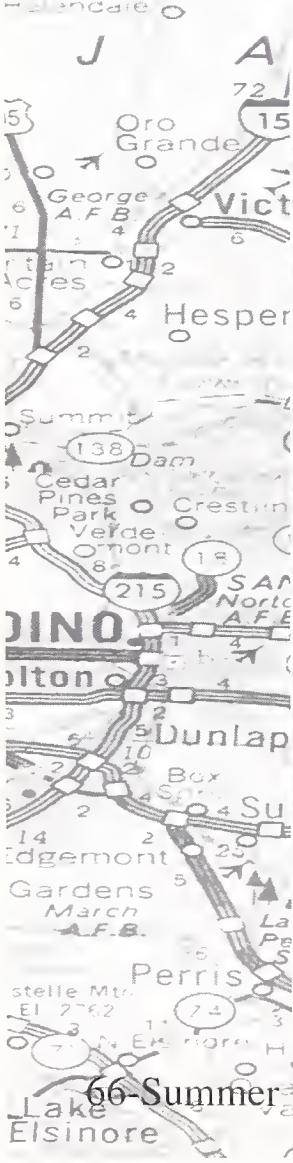

Rosalie and her friends revel in the attention of a scantily-clad egyptian.

If it weren't for Mariel's DKNY sunglasses, these two beauties might easily be mistaken for Nepalese women.

"I wonder if anyone can tell we're tourists. . . ?" ponders Mylan.

Katie was so excited, she had to be sedated, before she could board the plane.

John and Talitha were so absorbed in their music, they didn't notice that they had missed their stop. . .

Josina kickin' it with her host family in Costa Rica.

A steamy jungle backdrop complements this romance nicely.

Two girls, two towers. . . 'nuff said.

Seeing the Eiffel Tower in person brought tears to Alex's eyes. . .

"Boy, I got more than just a car,
I got a boat!!"

"We could be surfing, but don't we look fresh just standing here?"

"If you can't get em, just get naked," says Seth.

"If only first period were always this easy," thinks Becca

"Look Hannah, the nude beach at Club
Med has made a comeback."

So many beautiful faces, so little time.

3rd period Life Guarding discovers their revolutionary instructor.

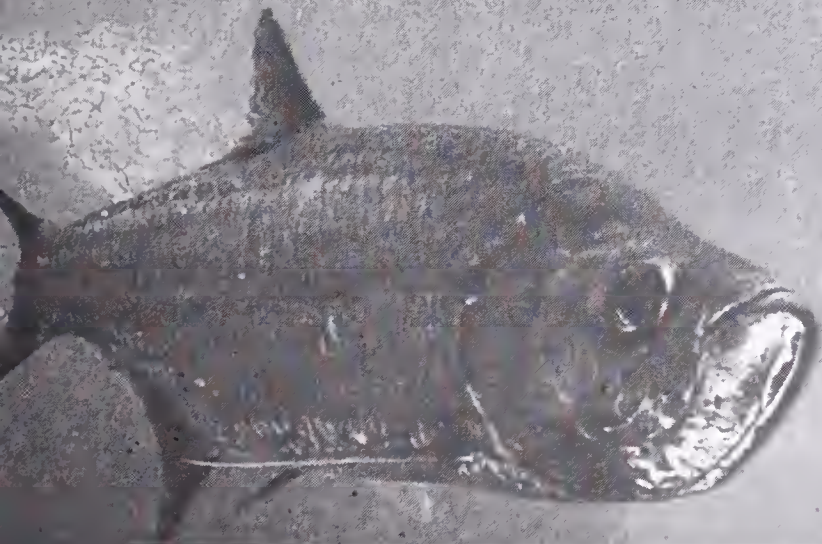

Uh....Paris

Jessie's in there somewhere.

"Think they'll let us pee off the torch?" says Beth Lake Anza was never so fun!

Jessex2 point to their home on Planet Disco.

Carmen & Melissa stake out new territory

Eleanor, Lucy, Becca, Hannah, and Jamie go to the source in the Calistoga vineyard

Johnson Nguyen and friends at Great America

Eli chills with a buxom extra from "The Sound of Music" set in Switzerland.

Clayton saying whats up with a half a loaf of Kung Fu . . .

Maegan, Aaliyah and Sennie doing the ritual summer mating dance

Ahhh! Get this freak off of me!

Somewhere in Israel.

Perched on a high mountain plateau, Marie, Megan and Hillary are smiling from the lack of oxygen . . .

déjeuner sur l'herbe (Translation in b-highonics: kickin' it with grub on the grass)

Best friends chillin' in the summertime.

Sadiyah and Julia at Rosa's B-day

Uh...beam me back to the hive.

3 lovely ladies in a Camaro at the summer jam.
a little slice of heaven!

"Riding away is the easiest way to forget about B-High," think Nadia and Erin.

Meredith shows exchange students
how to party park style!

Joey and D-shells were at B-high all summer, really!

IT'S TRANG!.....and her empty cart.

Everybody's just got to be different in San Francisco.

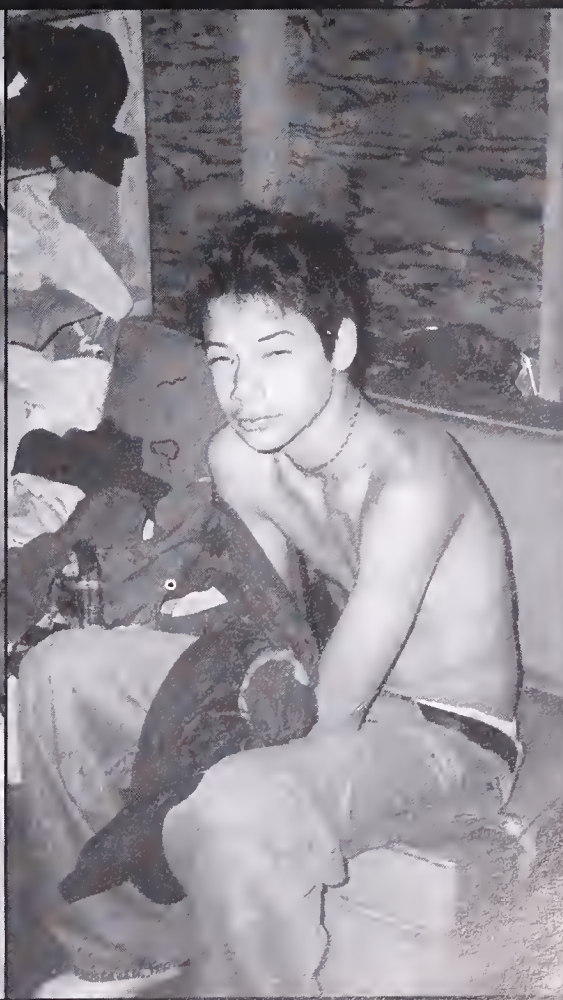

Juleen and Janice realize the inadequacy of kindergarden tables and chairs.

Everything's fun after a few drinks!

"Please, please, please, no more," says everyone in the pictures below.

ANNIE SWEARS THE 13TH TIME'S THE CHARM.

SETH, SALLY, AND RONITA ARE THE SHREEEE!!!T

"OH MY GOD! I THINK THAT I'M HAVING ANOTHER ONE OF THOSE FLASHBACKS", SAYS NIRA.

Through The Eyes Of Berkeley High

Oh, okay, let's argue over the baby toy.

"I know you don't think you're cute Charles", says Sennie.

Jonah explains his wild date last night to Rob.

As everyone turns to look at the fight, Tom stands still and plays dead.

All right Tasha, stop smiling, the picture is already over!

BRAND-NAME CLOTHING

Taking a walk through the halls of Berkeley High, you will surely notice the tremendous amount of diversity in the people you see and the clothes they are wearing. If you take a look at one group of friends you may see hair of an array of colors, ripped jeans, combat boots, even spiked jackets and collars. Look to another group and you'll see an assortment of brand name clothing, ranging from "Tommy Hilfiger" to "Old Navy". You will still see the classic t-shirt and jeans combo. For the most part the styles at Berkeley High consist of looking like you spent way too much time getting yourself dressed and made-up, or, looking like you didn't spend any time at all. From person to person the styles might be different, but that's just another aspect of the diversity of the student body at Berkeley High.

What's Been Happenin'??

Class Pranks

You walk through the gates expecting the same old place and everything that comes with it. You stroll into the courtyard and look up at the community theater. The sides of your mouth creep up into a smile as you stare at a huge pile of manure on the steps, or even more impressive: Dummies with "98" written on their shirts hanging by their necks with close to one hundred pumpkins surrounding the community theater. It is truly amazing. How the hell did they get up to those dangerously high places? Really! How did they get up on top of the C-Building, paint their class number on the roof, and sling a rope from there over to the community theater??? All there is to say is that there are some straight talented and hella crazy fools that go to our school. This is the kind of stuff that makes Berkeley High so unique! I mean, what other schools have that kind of artistic excitement? I think that we should all give the pranksters who decorate Berkeley High every year a huge pat on the back for continuing to show their saucy school spirit and creative abilities.

"CVO 1999 shows their spirit on halloween day"

"A Response To death" by Clayton Childress

I am writing because I don't understand why all of a sudden everyone has a right to refer to the deceased by their first names. I don't understand why everyone clamors to connect themselves to those dead students, telling everyone that they had a few classes with Corinne Barton or Jason Jenkins. I am offended that the faculty will continually ask for moments of silence, but not take the time to learn how to pronounce Corinne Barton's name. I understand why news of these student's deaths spreads like wild fire, but I don't understand why people say the mandatory "That's Tragic", and then ask for gory details. It bothers me that the lady at Noltes photography didn't bat an eye as she crossed Jason Jenkin's and Corinne Barton's names off the list of the Berkeley High students. What about the BHS history teacher who questioned students on how to get Corinne Bartons textbooks returned after she died? If you know me, maybe I've told you the story about Yaheem King's funeral fund and the girl who asked if the class who raised the most money could have a party. Why did it take the violent death of Alberto Perez to bring a meeting in the courtyard? And the most of all, why did it take three deaths in one week to bring the school together in an assembly! Someone figured out that .1% of the Berkeley High population has passed away so far this year, not that four people's children, or brother's or friends aren't with us anymore...

-Dedicated to the students who are no longer with us

THE i n s i d e REVOLUTION

Mrs. Groves has been teaching at Berkeley High School since the early sixties. She is an incredibly outspoken and revolutionary figure on this campus. In the late sixties, Mrs. Groves headed up the "Small Schools" program here at Berkeley High. Her purpose was to help build community between students, school, and family. Classes in feminism, social change and ecology were taught without district funding and during teachers' free time. The classroom areas were located in the courtyard and walk areas to the east of the A building. Although "Small Schools" is no longer being offered, Mrs. Groves' revolution lives on through the Communication Arts Sciences (CAS) program. Mrs. Groves is an active participant in this program as well, which focuses not only on building community, but in aiding and preventing students from falling into the cracks at Berkeley High.

Then, in the mid-sixties to mid-seventies came the rise of the Civil Rights movement and with it, the women's movement as well. Mrs. Groves has always been a strong advocate for Women's issues. From the very beginning, Mrs. Groves initiated the struggle to create a Women's Studies department here at Berkeley High School and to implement a district wide holiday in recognition of Women's day. At one point, women's self defense, women's studies seminar, and women's literature were being offered at Berkeley High. Thanks to her incredible devotion and involvement with women's issues, Berkeley High School remains the only high school in the country with a Women's Studies department.

Mrs. Groves is also actively involved with the Diversity Project here at Berkeley High. This revolutionary program is involved in research and application of issues regarding diversity at Berkeley High. In conjunction with UC Berkeley, the Diversity Project works to find solutions to the many problems facing Berkeley High. How to reduce the number of students who are failing academically? How to provide more support for students, teachers, and staff? How to improve the atmosphere and organization of the school? are just a few.

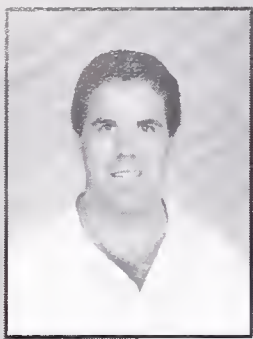

Mrs. Groves is also actively involved with community service projects here at the school and in our community. She requires some of her classes to become involved with Habitat for Humanity and intra-school teaching projects. Mrs. Groves has a strong belief in building and working with our community. Her revolutionary ideas and commitment benefit us all.

THE i n s i d e REVOLUTION

Long before the environmental movement was a household name, Mr. Richards was a young man who was already taking part in cultural rituals and making a difference in his life. Following this, a youth who first was involved in the Berkeley High School community in 1975, he went to the Yurok Tribe in Northern California to participate in a pre-spring of the annual Earth Summit which would later take place in Brazil. The purpose of this summit was to set international environmental standards for the future. In addition to being constantly involved with Berkeley High students, he soon became involved with the faculty as well. A little too involved, Mr. Richards met a fellow teacher here at Berkeley High, Tammy Harkins, and fell in love. While planning a life together, they masterminded the first core classes for English and History. These are now an integral part of all freshmen's schedules. Before having children, both Monsieur Richards and his wife Tammy, along with a group of BHS students, ventured into the Klamath Mountains for a semester of living among the Yurok Tribe. During their High. In his years at Berkeley High, Mr. Richards has been very influential in creating students with open and creative minds.

Mr. Richards' extremely revolutionary approaches to creating more conscious and open minded students has been a great asset to the Berkeley High School community. He has helped motivate students to get involved in the local community as well as to participate in seminars on social change. Mr. Richards eventually developed a course here at Berkeley High dealing with comparative religions. His most recent endeavor, however, has been the creation of an ecoliteracy class. This course, according to Richards, teaches students about the crucial issues affecting their environment. They work with the recycling program, gardens, community projects and wilderness trips associated with

STRIKES

THE i n s i d e REVOLUTION

Mr. Davis first arrived on the Berkeley High School scene six years ago. He was a part of a group of new enthusiastic young teachers looking to make a difference. He brought energy and cultural flavor with him to the history department. His involvement with BHS students has created variety in their education and has offered them new and interesting opportunities. He is a very outspoken advocate on many issues at Berkeley High School. He helped to formulate the ethnic studies curriculum which is now a mandatory course here at Berkeley High. Mr. Davis has also helped to make the Berkeley High student body more aware and knowledgeable of the world around them. He helped to organize assemblies on political prisoners in Puerto Rico and in recognition of Richard D. Navies week.

Mr. Davis is also an integral part of the African American Studies Department here at Berkeley High. This department is extremely revolutionary in that it is the only one of its kind in a high school in the country. He teaches a variety of classes, including Black Psychology and Black Gold-Black Soul-Black Dynamite. These classes are constantly growing in popularity. He graciously devotes his time to help further the position of African-Americans at Berkeley High and in society at large. He also attempts to invite people of other races to come and take part in any of his Black Studies courses. Mr. Davis is a devoted revolutionary, whose constant involvement and concern for students has benefited us all.

THE i n s i d e REVOLUTION

Mr. Ayers brings a diverse background and enthusiastic attitude to his teaching career at BHS. In his early twenties, Mr. Ayers was a fugitive of the law. He went awol in Vietnam and was therefore pursued by the FBI for his crime. To avoid going to jail, Mr. Ayers fled the country for seven years. Upon returning to the United States, he became a professional chef. This lasted for fifteen years until he turned to teaching preschoolers - which lasted five years. Mr. Ayers was eventually drawn to Berkeley High through his daughter, who began attending school here. He received his teaching credential from Mills College where he majored in journalism. Shortly afterwards, he was pleased to be offered a position in the BHS English Department. He describes himself as "Old guy, new teacher." While Mr. Ayers believes Berkeley High School works for most students, he is committed to making it work for all students. To this end, he recently helped develop the revolutionary "small schools" program here at Berkeley High. The "small school" has all the opportunities of the larger school but is more flexible and personalized to the individual student. Also known as the Communications Arts and Science program (CAS), the "small school" helps to build community and to cater to students' specific needs to help them be successful. He is also actively involved with the Berkeley High School Jacket - the school's newspaper. Mr. Ayers' incredible contributions to Berkeley High are evident to us all.

WOMEN'S TENNIS

Although the tennis team hasn't been the champion of it's division, it has had a great year. With coach John Armstrong and senior Nancy Namkung, the tennis team has made a great comeback after it's 0-10 losing streak, to a 2-8 victory. To many, that may seem like nothing, but to the tennis team it is a great accomplishment. Unlike all other teams in their league, the players enjoy eachother's company rather than try to be over competitive. However they are a disciplined team, must endure practice 5 days a week.

Jessica Davidman, who is a sophomore, says she feels that tennis is a good mind developer. She has currently been on the team for 2 years now and feels that every year she's getting better and better and enjoys being on the team because of her fun loving teammates.

Kassa Elliot, who is a junior (99!), is more on the quiet side, but has shown tremendous improvement by being ranked the #1

Women's

The women's volleyball team flew far and high this season. Everyone had lots of energy, especially the seniors who lead the team to a successful season. Brooke "What up (G-line)" Leverette dominated with her scrappy passing and ridiculously hard hits. Emma "Yellow card" Batten-Bowman intimidated the other team with her 6-pack and deadly kills. Stephanie "I'm bringing sticky Kool-aid!" Carabas set up their season with her smooth plays. Amanda "Come on girls be positive" Miller could always be found killing the ball in any position. Katy "Mo-mentum" Becker always seemed to make the team laugh. Randy Rosa Schneider with her ambidextrous skills kept the team fired up. Shannon "ay-i-i-i" Prichard was always a spark plug when she came on the court. Hazel "super hops" Perry, showed them her athleticism by playing in the middle for the first time. Emily "hey stupid" Yoder gave them great consistent serves. Eryn "can I get a yesss?" Flemming jump served better than anyone and got her booty down just in time. Lilah "loudmouth" Gamble kept a straight face after every roof. Hannah "wait, wait...what?" Lawler fakes with her right and hits with her left. Lizzi "granny style" Akana took senior abuse but showed them her front row skills. And their coach, Patrick "this is a lot different than coaching guys" always seemed to bring out the uncontrollable giggles.

In closing, from the team-"We had a saucy 1997 year in women's volleyball. We had the best fans in the league" THANX. One love B-High, uniting all classes. We'll miss you seniors."

Men's Waterpolo

"First we conquer them, then we pillage..." or at least the latter. Where ever this year's men's water polo team went, the competition locked its doors and hid its women in fear. The team was led by the shot blocking of MJ "The long haired hippy freak" Crickmore, the whole setting of Rob "The hairy bung hole" Collier, the shots of Luke "All the JV girls love me" Van Dyke and Carlisle "the Mantee" Crumbly. The Jackets battled through, finishing with a record of 10 and 18. First year players Nickclepto Stohlman and Daniel "Chewbacca" Boxello learned what a man's game is, with the help of Tom "The fairy" Ferry, Owen "Ten days fo' token" Russel, Ryan "Powder" Jones, Nate "Sex machine" Feeley and Doug "The hater" Ader. Justin "I love all the JV girls" Vaughn and Robby Can't fit it in the speedo" Hellieson got some head butts in and some heads in butts, to help the Jackets drown the competition. Our fearless leader was Bill "The guru" Gaebler. The JV team was led by Coach Brandon "I'm still here" Williams. The starting line up was Simon "The gorilla" Lake, Marcin "Five fists of fury" Nadolny, Trevor "Wanker" Wagner and Zack "Fraggle-rock" Thomsen-Grey. "Overall, we felt the season was a success and we look forward to another good one next year. A word of caution to all you '99'ers, however, don't touch Brandon's car."

If I were you, I would watch out for any woman at BHS carrying a curved wooden stick because most likely, she's on the field hockey team, has a weapon and will use it.

In a revolutionary style, the varsity field hockey team has turned last year's losing streak into a sensational 1-1-4 season. To help start the team off to a winning season were coaches Carla Sorocco, kDonna Fong, who served as UCB's assistant coach for 19 years and co-captains Megan Garcia and Marie Farneth.

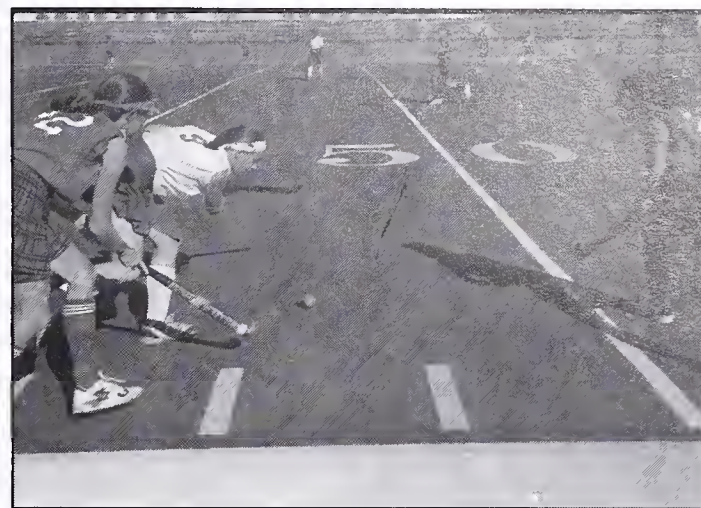

Wait a minute, is it backwards day, or did the JV field hockey team start a new trend that I don't know about.

Varsity girls Stephanie, Rory, Ellie, Katie, Karin, take a break in between halves to catch a breath and socialize with Sophmores Carla Frank and Kiri McCart.

There are 3 seniors: to leave the team this year. Nitza Soloman who was voted most likely to enjoy a latte while the team runs 2 miles, Jesse Oswald, who was voted most likely to forget her mouth guard, kilt, socks, bikers and jersey at a game, and Carmen Herrera, who was voted most likely to break someone's leg, arm and head with her drive. All 3 seniors said the thing they will miss most are their "good spirited teammates." Leah Marthinsen, has shown her outstanding leadership qualities, by proving herself to be a one woman wrecking crew. She scored not one, but all the points in a game, for a number of games.

Varsity also helped out the JV team by taking them in under their wing and showing them the ropes. The majority of the JV team is made up of new people. Among those are: Anna "Wolfy" Wolfe, who was voted the goofiest girl on the team, Anna "The machine" Russell and Kathy "The gladiator" Tin, who were both voted most athletic amongst their teammates. They all agreed that the best thing about being on the team, was getting pantsed at practice and the worst thing was the "gorgeous" uniforms! Claire "The Bear" Williams has shown tremendous leadership by being asked to play with the Varsity team for their championships. Ellie K. and Miriam B. have stuck out the whole season with a bright smile and good sportsmanship like many of their teammates!

"Can I get a little help down here?" says Rory, as she gets double teamed by two scrawny defenders.

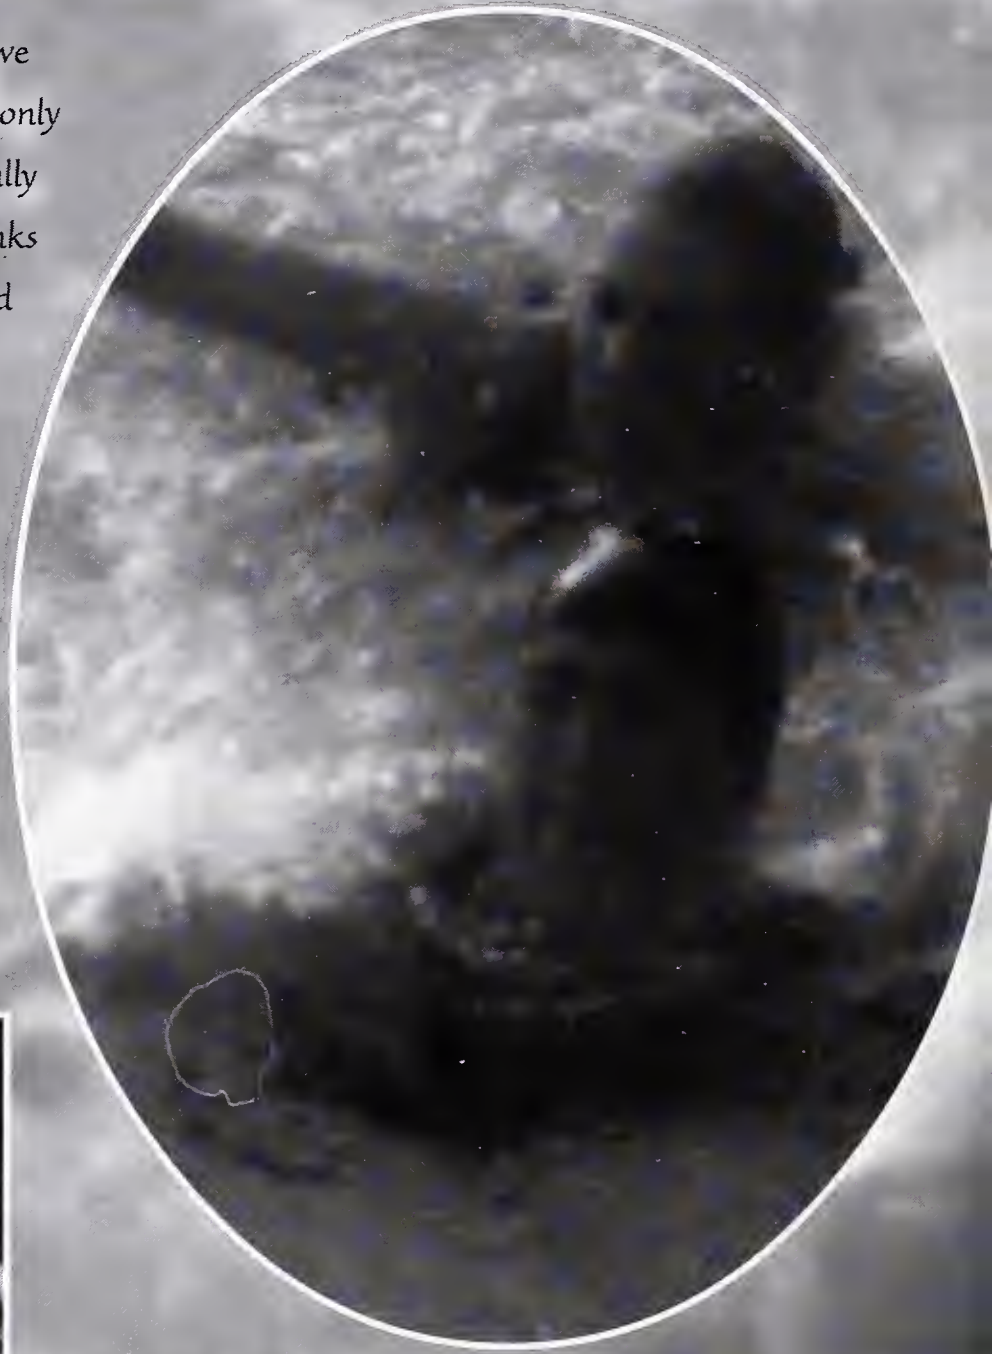

"Hey, where did my 2 balls go?" says Hannah as Leah Marthenson walks away suspiciously with two balls in her hands.

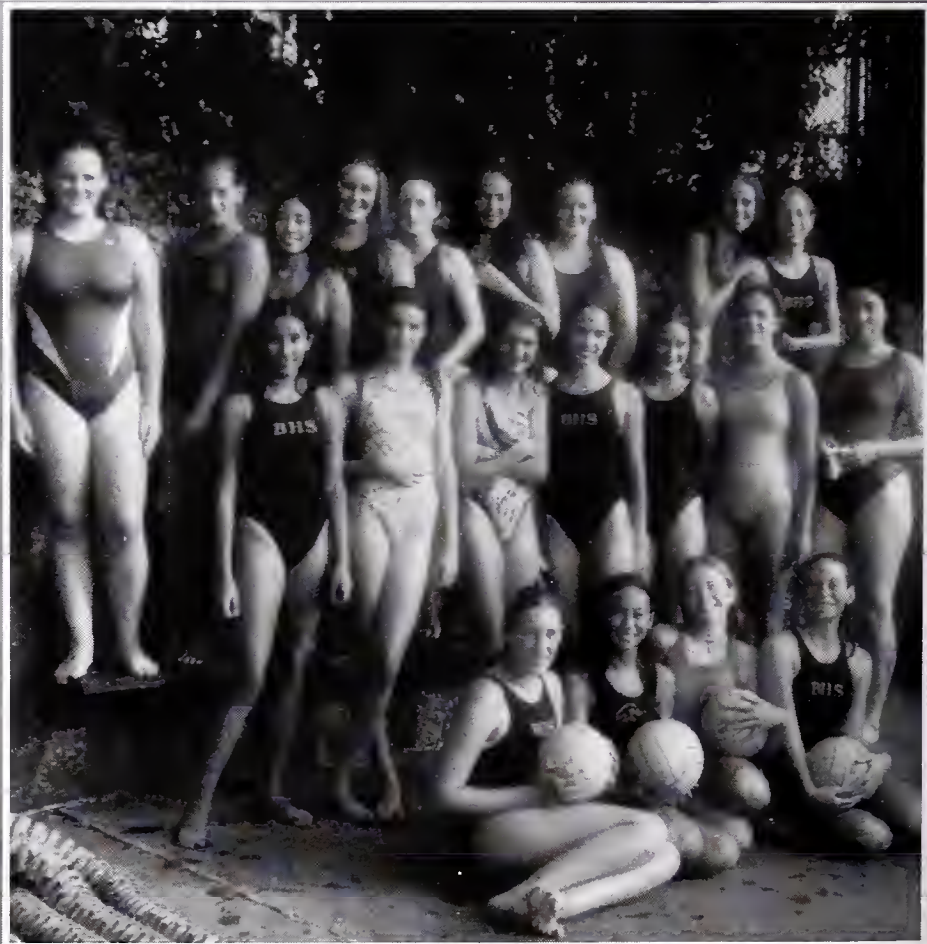

And away she goes, where she stops nobody knows...

Women's Water Polo

This 97-98 season has been the 25th consecutive year for Berkeley High Women's Water Polo. It's been tough and the competition fierce, but we stuck together and survived all the valley hoochies and country clubs with only a few bruises and bloody eyeballs. Having to recover from the loss of basically the entire varsity squad, our team had quite a challenge to overcome. Thanks to Coach Gaebler and his quick wit, we were able to laugh through the good and bad times of our season. Our dedicated team captain, serious swim coach and main wholeset was Julie "Black eye cuervo#8" Easterday. Nothing could stop the starting "98"er Rachel "Eyeball, cuervo#4" Hon 'cause she ain't no hater. We could always count on Julie "No sprint!" Williams and mommy Pierra "BTJP" Miller to be there for the team. Just kickin' it by the pool were bomb ass "98"ers, Emiliana "Big Baller" Bean and Sarah "Sun-screen" Voytek. Other college bound seniors were Sexy Lexi Sutherland, Mariel "Shootin' for the stars" Chatman and Jessica "Birn-baumin' with the balls?" The season had it's ups and downs, but at the end, one thing was clear. BHS, with the mighty class of 1998 at it's head, is and always will be the bizomb.

Football

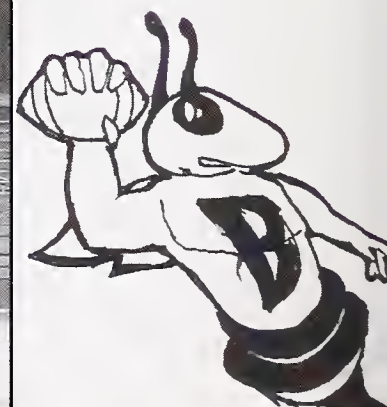

Last year the Yellow Jackets went 8-4 and made the NCS semifinals for the third straight year. Since then, the Jackets have taken some heavy blows. Loss of graduating senior Yaheem King to a gunshot wound devastated the Jacket's off-season..., and just when the new season was about to begin, senior Jason "J-Swolles" Jenkins died in a car accident, just hours before the opening game of his senior season. The Yellow Jackets will always remember J-Swolles for the brilliant and determined inspiration that he was, and Yaheem for his strong minded toughness and unconquerable spirit. Though they faced rough times, the Jackets went on through the season, leaving an impression on every team they faced. Their hard-hitting defense was lead by captain Ricky "seat face" Cornejo, who never let a play come his way without breaking someone's back. Other defensive stand outs were Lincoln "condom head" Casimere, Matt "toke a bowl" Werner, Matt "what unsportsmanlike conduct?" Overall, Mike "ghost of the darkness" Ude, Chris "7 year High School All-American" Gayden, Judge "legal hit, illegal hit, what's the difference?" Jardim, and Nick "fruity bootie" Cunningham, among others.

The Freshmen football team

Though the offense struggled throughout the season to find skilled position players and consistency, one element that was constant throughout the season was the core of the offensive line. Shmu "bagel gut" White dominated nose-guards and middle linebackers relentlessly, earning a well deserved spot on the All Northern California team. Offensive captain Sam "da Prez" Hollander manhandled his share of defensive linemen as well. These two returning offensive linemen had help from honorable mention All-league Nate "double D cup" Arceneaux and Phillip "Roughy" Ruff. There was no paucity of talent in the receiver position, led by All-Northern California Ariel "hands, break-away skills, and a Jostens contract" Herzog, Dustin "cu! It's a live grenade!" Needham and Greg "how'd he make that catch?" Gibbs. The quarterbacks struggled throughout the season until junior Elishama "Goldie" Goldfarb finally stepped-up and let the senior quarterbacks who transferred in this year try their hand at defensive line, where they made a strong showing, despite never using their helmets. At running back, Booker "hallway demon" Smith and Eric "6th grade" Turner made a strong showing once the season was in full swing, behind the fearless blocking of newcomer fullback Tom "buttermilk" Nilles. On special teams, Gabe "right, left...I'm dyslexic" Clark kicked an 80 yard touch back, and Hasani "swoosh" Barnes almost returned a kickoff, but was caught from behind mid-high step by a big slow valley dwelling farmboy. Ariel showed his returning skills also, giving the Jackets great field position consistently. Though the Jackets had a young and inexperienced team this year, and were only able to pick up 2 wins, many younger players had playing time, even some sophomore JV players..., and some Juniors have already begun to leave their mark on the league, like Junior class president Nathan-the Stork "I can scratch my ear with my..." Dahl, Ben "the nose" Schooler, Omar "magic carpet" Sabeh, Eric "squeak" Willie, Calvin "earthquake" Byrd-Thomas, and other young guns, who will lead the Jackets into victory in the seasons to come.

Cross Country

After the closing of the successful 1996 cross country season, the team lost many valuable members, mostly seniors. Despite this loss, the team persevered and was almost totally rebuilt by newcomers. Uniquely, the team wasn't really separated by gender or class, and instead were one entity racing with high hopes and high spirits. "We're not really a winning team, but we still have a lot of confidence and that is what makes this team so strong," said junior, Ryan Phillips. Even when they don't win, there seems to be a real sense of camaraderie.

Leading the team as shining role models were the only two seniors, Willy Carter and Beth Olson. "Since they have so much experience, they are really great assets to the team," said sophomore Marcus Graly. Also contributing was junior Ryan Phillips as well as sophomores Joseph and Marcus Graly.

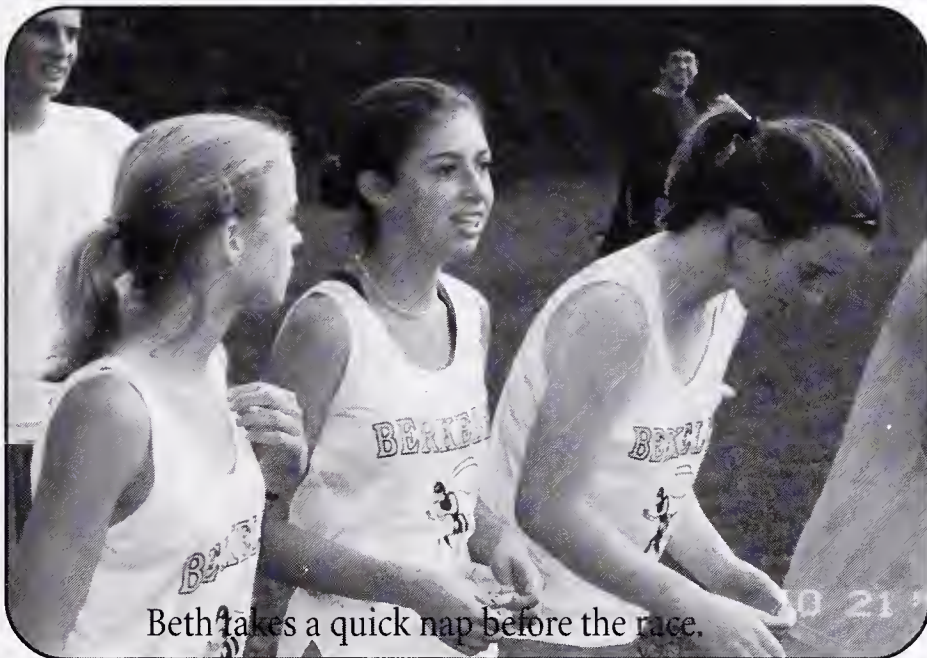

Who knows what is in store for the cross country team in the future. They are definitely headed in the right direction, learning from the past seasons' experiences. There is still a long road ahead, and a lot of training in the process, but we can expect cross country to be better than ever for years to come.

Women's Basketball

The women's basketball team has had a reputation of being the most fierce competition in their league. Last year the varsity squad was ranked #1 in the state! They are now on their way to a winning year again. They have already started the season off with a 9-0 record. U.S.A. Today has ranked them #5 in the nation along with such teams as Christ The King and Campolindo.

To help the varsity squad live up to their high standards are returning starters Coriel Davis, Aisha Hollans, Allison Nowak and Nycole Brown. Allison Nowak is a senior will be leaving the team this year after playing all her 4 years at BHS. Also contributing from the bench are Sonya Jubb, Danielle Nevue, Robin Roberson, Danielle Robinson and Nicole Haraway. Also a big height contribution from Latifah Lewis, who is a towering 6'3", has helped the varsity squad a lot.

Move Over Shorty

The junior varsity squad has also made a name for themselves by having a 10-0 record for the beginning of the season. With players like Chimere Washington, they've been able to live up to the standards of the varsity squad as well as their own.

The freshmen team has also started the season off well too, by putting forth tremendous effort and having a good attitude in the process. They are sure to be as tremendous as the varsity squad.

This year, Jackets mens basketball looks forward to another good season. The jackets are accustomed to winning and this season should be no disappointment. Nate "The stork/ How you do dat' der'? / I'm bout' it bout' it/ That's no joke/ Shut up coach or I'm a sock you ass like Latrell Spreewell did" Dahl and Toby "I wear whatever and do whatever the fk I want" Riday-White are emerging as the stars this year. Aside from varsity, the Freshman and J.V. teams look promising with the young guns stepping up to take their place in Berkeley's proud basketball tradition. They will assure the continuation of the Jackets glory once the great class of '98 departs for college. If we can feel assured of victory by any team this year, it is the men's basketball team.

Men's Soccer

Futbol, better known as soccer here in Berkeley, came through big time this year. Besides having the dopest fits, we won a few games as well. In pre-season Varsity went 6-1-1, while J.V went undefeated. The new Frosh team started out tough in its first game going 10-0. Varsity started of the league competition with a victory over Livermore (ranked #3 in the East bay). JV remained undefeated with a 3-0 win.

This year was predicted to be one of Berkeley High's best, partly because of the great leadership shown by captains Gabriel "Kick" Clark and Ehren "Chilavert" Reilly. In the pre-season Clark and Reilly each had three goals, including a game winning goal by Reilly, and a 58 yard bomb by Clark.

The game winning goal against Livermore was scored by Ranvir "John Bones" Sinah. The first goal of the season was scored by freshman Tiaso "Pink Panther" Venturi. The other stars of the year were Justin "Big Orange" Ossola who controlled the center midfield and Jose "Gordo" Fernandez, the other center forward known for his amazing ball skills.

The defense anchored by Clark was made up of Arash "The But" Bayachmond, Dev "Chevron" Millsrein, Mario "Pelon" Arriola, Daniel "The Spaniard" Botello, senior stopper Pavel "The Wall" Garcia, Andy "The New Kid" Davis and Alex "Left Nut" Grub. The midfield controlled by Justin and Ranvir also starred Antonio "NO Defense" Ramirez, "Carlitos" Guerrero, Mike "Schmitt" Schmidt, and sometimes was blessed by the presence of Jose "Superstar" Vilar who also played forward. The forward line, led by the two Joses, was very impressive this year. The rest of the forward gang was Israel "Enano" Noriesa, Horacio "Tacos al" Pastor, Jahannes "Goal Post" Mikkelsen, Satvir "Bob" Sing, and Tiago "Pink Panther" Venturi. The back-up goalies were Todd "Freshman" Wagner, and Santiago "Stat."

The coach Eugenio "Pelo Corto" Juarez, made a pre-season bet with the team that he would cut his hair if they went to play-offs. We'll just have to see how Juarez looks come Spring.

Well, that is the star-studded team of 1998 which is, by the way, the best year and class that ran things on the soccer field and at BHS.

Women's Soccer

This year the Women's Varsity Soccer team was too busy workin' it (hella hard) to win. But damn it was good! With our pimpstress capt'n's, Erin "the bomb" Wheeler, Deena "Big G" Blumenkrantz, and tha crew, we fought with heart till the end. The big seniors are Elizabeth "gazelle" Beatus, and Ashley "diving" Burns. The wanna be tight '99 holmies are Julie "be nice" Beagle, Sarah "show-hoe" Eno, Clara "speedy" Funk, Abby "the wall" Enscoe, Laura "one touch" Bekes, and Josaphine "supa fly." The sophomore gang is Kristie "calm down" Komendaunt, Jessica "swerver" Sperber, Adrian "3-games" Cohn, and Molly "power bar" Burger. And our freshman crew features Mia "playa" Arakaki, Mariko "mo-hoe" Holland, Cece "summersault" Clark, Esther "I'm the" Schmidt, and Elizabeth "head butt" O'Hair. Some shouts out to our coaches Anie, Heather, and Andy. We had a building year and there is only room for improvement. And a phat party to wrap it all up.

Cheerleading

The cheerleading squad has had their struggles this year, but they've always come out on top. Although they lack support from the student body, they receive a lot of recognition outside of Berkeley High. They've performed at such events as the 49ers football games, several camps and a number of competitions in and outside of the Bay Area.

The cheerleading squad is lead by co-captains and seniors Ronita and Angel. They have made a contribution to the team since freshmen year. The team won't be the same without them. Other seniors to leave the team are Aahliya, Sheryl. Although they all weren't team captains, they have all had leadership roles in making the Berkeley High cheerleading squad what it is today.

The cheerleading squad is divided into JV and Varsity squads. The JV squad consists of many spirited BHS women, who love to lead their fellow Jackets in supporting all the BHS squads.

With sponsors Mrs. Route-Chapman and Mrs. Pittman, the cheerleading squad is and will continue to be the embodiment of school spirit.

Cheerleaders scramble to lift Nakedria and Christine and at the same time are able to share in the fun of the spirit rally.

The 1997/1998 was the strongest Berkeley Wrestling has had in the 1990's. Sixty-five wrestlers began the season for the yellow jackets who placed top five in five different tournaments, including a championship at the Bay Bridge Invitational. This year's grapplers qualified more athletes for the North Coast Section Wrestling Tournament (five) than any other squad in the last ten years. Leading the way was senior Dashiel DeMarco (125 lbs) who capped winning five tournament championships in a row with a league championship. Junior Jason Joseph and sophomore Marcus Glass were league runner-ups, while senior Asa Dodsworth capped off his career with a consolation championship. Junior Varsity league champion sophomores Stephen Barrie-Anthony and Warren Howe had standout seasons. Other junior varsity league finalists included: Jared Anderssel, Michael Appleberry, Noah Boyer, Owen Gould, Eric Gruen, Daniel Palau, Brian Smith, Nick Stohlman, Hershel Winheld, and Harold Woo. When you add in tough sophomores Justin Cary, Evelyn Frickle, and Misha Balmer; you find that sixteen of Berkeley's nineteen league medalists are returning next year! The future looks very good for what may be the world's most integrated team (check the Guinness...). This is truly a team where all shapes, sizes, and sexes are successful!

Badminton

Some call it volleyball with tennis rackets, while some call it tennis with a smaller racket and higher net. Whatever you call it, the official name is badminton, and it is fairly easy to spot a player with their shrunk tennis rackets in hand.

This year the Berkeley High Badminton Team is struggling through a tough season this year. After picking up head coach Odell Patton at the last minute, the team had a late start and didn't get their schedule figured out until after the season had actually started. Despite this chaotic beginning, the team has been playing well and gradually improving. Coach Patton is surprised to see the team working together which is something that makes any team strong. The more experienced players are always helping those who have had less time with the game and is partly responsible for the team's improvement.

With a few more games remaining in the season, the team has a 2-5 record. Hopefully they will learn from their mistakes and come out strong next year.

These seniors are looking forward to returning to their beloved alma mater at next year's Christmas Sprints hung-over and out of shape and watching next year's Varsity boat kick their ass.

As this fall semester draws to a close, we look back fondly at memories like Ben "Brewmeister" Phillips accidentally knocking Marin's 3-man's teeth out with his oar...our strong showing in Newport and the nice waitresses we made friends with at a local eatery...Darla and Chaos playfully breaking several $10,000 boats...J.V. beating every other J.V. crew and two Varsity crews in Stanford...and Morgan

WOMEN'S

If you see someone at BHS dragging their backpack or falling asleep in class, they may be on the crew team. You ask why? Because they have to be at practice at 6:00 am. This means for most people, they have to wake up at 5:00 am, 6 days a week- and don't oversleep because that means 300 jumpies!

Berkeley High Women's Crew team consists of varsity and novice. Within the varsity squad, there's the varsity boat, the junior varsity boat and the lightweight boat (watch what you eat because you have to weigh in at 130 lbs or less, not a pound over!).

The varsity boat is looking forward to a tremendous season. With such rowers as Jill Filipek, Jessie Winters and Hannah Karp, they should have no problem eating through their competitors. Monifa Milon, Ananda Chou, Rachel Leff-Kich and Merrit Hicman are also up and coming varsity stars.

Coach Eliza Miller has put a lot of time and energy into shaping the lightweight boat into an even more dominant force than last season, when they won a silver medal at Southwest Junior Rowing Championships (CJ's). They pose even more of a threat to rival crews this year due to the arrival of Adrian Hill. She was named MVR (most valuable rower) of her novice team last year and decided to do a year abroad in Switzerland, but returned halfway into the first semester.

The JV boat has potential to be a gold medal winning group of cutthroat a bches. Have a nice season.

The seniors to leave the team this year are captains Eleanor Mayer and Hannah Karp.

The novice team looks like they will have a good season this year.

Through rain, sleet or snow, the lightweights will still continue to row.

Probably the biggest change to the 1998 Men's Tennis Team are the players. Despite the loss of six of their top players, the team has seen about twenty new members join their team, most of them freshman. These new players are less experienced in competitive tennis, but they do have experience, a lot of it. With a little work and motivation, the team should have no problem meeting or surpassing last year's performance. The team has already proven themselves to Skyline, beating them 6-1.

One of the team's top players and only seniors is Avery Moore who is a veteran tennis player. With the help of other experienced players including John Blommsburg and Matt Togami, Avery should be able to lead the team to sweet victory.

Lacrosse

We started fresh this year with only four returning seniors and a total of twelve returning players. Two new coaches arrived to whip us into shape, regardless of the fact that we had no field space until three weeks into the season. Despite El Nino, we managed to stay dedicated and recruit enough players to form Varsity and, for the first time, JV teams.

This year the Varsity team was led by the two great dolls, Nanette "Swish Swish" Sartoris and the "Lacrosse Cop" Farley. Our returning players included co-captains Claudia "Earth Mother, Paul "Geyser" Sims and Hannah "That stupid game" Boal who always tried to lead stretches. In defense we had Karla "Only point" Kuo, "I got to play in more than two games" Etzel and of course our awesome goalie Karin "Special K" Hilton. Our fantastic freshmen had now turned into stunning sophomores led by Dani "But I was beating my defense" Gates, Naomi "Giggles" Coffman, and Caroline "Keepin' up the family line" Fletcher. Our offense was based on Amanda "Monkey Noise" Miller, Ellie "Squint your eyes and run" Smith, Hannah "Dancin'" Weiss, and Megan "but I play defense" Garcia. Our new Varsity players definitely stepped up and met the challenge. Impressively they consisted of three freshmen Kathy "Gangsta Girl" Ten, Anna "freshman" Russell, Jamie "I scored!" Lee, and three sophomores, Tracy "bad defense" Zedeck, Alana "Am I late?" Perl, and Cory "Hunchback" Satran. And all we joined to become a team to be reckoned with.

However, the only team who was close to matching our amazing season, was our equally scintillating, brand-spanking-new JV team. They were 16 awesome girls by the names of Naomi Corwin, Anneka Harper, Rosa Schneider, Ghina Nabony, Olivia Haesloop, Nikki Baillet, Laura Marsh, Amy Degenkois, Jena Hounshell, Cara Phillips, Molly Tyler, Stephanie Corr, Maria G., Marie Farneth, Youza Pak, and Elizabeth Howe.

Even the lacrosse team knows that c/o 99 is the sh*t!

BHS makes another fantastic play.

Men's Lacrosse

Due to extensive use of an "herbal remedy" M.J remains calm, even in the midst of a game.

We started another year in the season of madness (East campus). Leading our team in defense are Jesse "Judge Judy" Jardim, Sam "P-whipped" White, Sam "I'm missing a chromosome" Woodhams-Roberts, backed up by Peter "Buck tooled" Garretz. This crushing defense laid a bit of pipe and a lot of hat. The Midfield was led by M.J "the Monkey" Crickmore, Ben "If your nose is attached to your forehead you might be a baller" Schooler and Leif "the Cricket" Sorenson. Second line was made up of Zack "Fatty fat, fat fat" Sternwalker, Scott the "guy" Holmes and Luke "The Leprechaun" Boggs. Elan "What a Guy" Emanuel's season was cut short by the opposing teams Nancy Kerrigan/Tonya Harding style tactics. Other middies were Owen "I'm not a smart man" Russel and Hassan "Prince Ali Ababua" Ali. Our friend Dermot "The Baker" O'Deady had some sticky buns to take care of and is no longer with us. The long-stick middie positions were filled by Dan "Rootin' Tootin'" Gutin and Stork "I just got a shipment in" Dahl. The attack was led by Rob "Let's Kick it" Hellison, Noah "General" Shwartz and Nick "Blah blah blah" Bradley backed up by Peter "Bad hairmo" Fischer. This army of talent was backed by Santi "The full monty" Lerma and led by our coaches Chris "I got me a woman" Sparhawk and Cregg "Take my woman" Swreeney. Yes this year is smokin' and bound for glory. After all, we B-High.

It's another wild and crazy year at San Pablo Park, where there's always a steady flow of free baseball, free Beer, and free lovin'. This amazing talented team was led by eight seniors: Tony "the dog" Rida, Leonard "my groin hurts" Collins, Tom Nilles, Matt, Luke "retarded 3 feet" Van Dyke, Jamal, Massimo "the minute man" Dicostanzo and JG "the bulldog" Harochett. This gave the team experience and a sense of leadership for the younger but somewhat talented underclassmen. Gerardo "vo quitero" Co Bell, Mejia, Malcom "Melrose" Jackson, Junis "stingy bat" Adams, Robert Colignut, Colignon, Dario "I got more ladies than overall his stories" Hutton, Stinky Shum, Goldfarb, Marshane "woo yeah-sh*t" Adams, and Skyle "spooky" Burton.

It looks to be a successful year as the team works hard to meet their goal of winning state championships. I'll see you at the park where such greats as Rickey Henderson, Willie McCovey, Larr Gordon, Michael J. Jensen, Nick Larrow, and Coach Carlo played.

And the Angels came down from the sky, blessing Berkeley High with a home run.

Uh...What you wanna do? You wanna be ballers, shot callers, brawlers? When you play the jackets you be playin' for the dollars. They don't wanna see us because they just can't beat us. Jackets are the Mac, so you better step on back...Uhh!

As we prepared to get "down and dirty", Tommy "Who got the seeds" McGill tells us to do our thang. Who's got the beat? Veronica "I got rhythin" McGraw and Amaya "Pink Panther" Webster get us juiced. Lily "Sushi Spice" Bernio fires the ball over the plate, past the weak valley bats, into Amanda "You still can't hit superstar" Cherrin's glove.

From left field we hear Quiana "Praying Manthus" Robinson yell at us, "I look like Tiger Woods!" as she runs down a pop fly. When we're in the field a homerun is unheard of. Our awesome outfielders Rachel "Froshfield" Will iams, Kiri "Tha bomb" Noble, Jessica "Itty Bitty J.K." Kline, Sarah "Captain" Purcell, and Amber "Senioritis" Crowley play stellar defense.

And don't ever try to take extra bases on Betsy "Flamingo" McDonald, cuz she'll dance your a out!

Our infield doesn't f*!# around either. With diving stops by Mia "Freshtop" Arakaki, Laura "It's only a game" Shepherd, and Ania "little big baller" Wilson a ball never seems to get by.

"Fours on!" Emily "Big time hitter" Hellison flies 1st for the out. "Throw it around the horn." The Lady Jackets always prevail.

Any day now...

MEN'S VOLLEYBALL

After losing three seniors from graduation, one player from a season-ending injury, one who decided to play another sport, and one from academic ineligibility, the Men's Volleyball team finds itself in a rebuilding year. Despite this heavy blow, the team has persevered and has made remarkable progress throughout the year. One thing that the team has seen a lot of this year are new players who have decided to experiment with the sport. It was first year coach Jim Telford's duty to coach these novices, and based on the team's performance so far, he has done a terrific job.

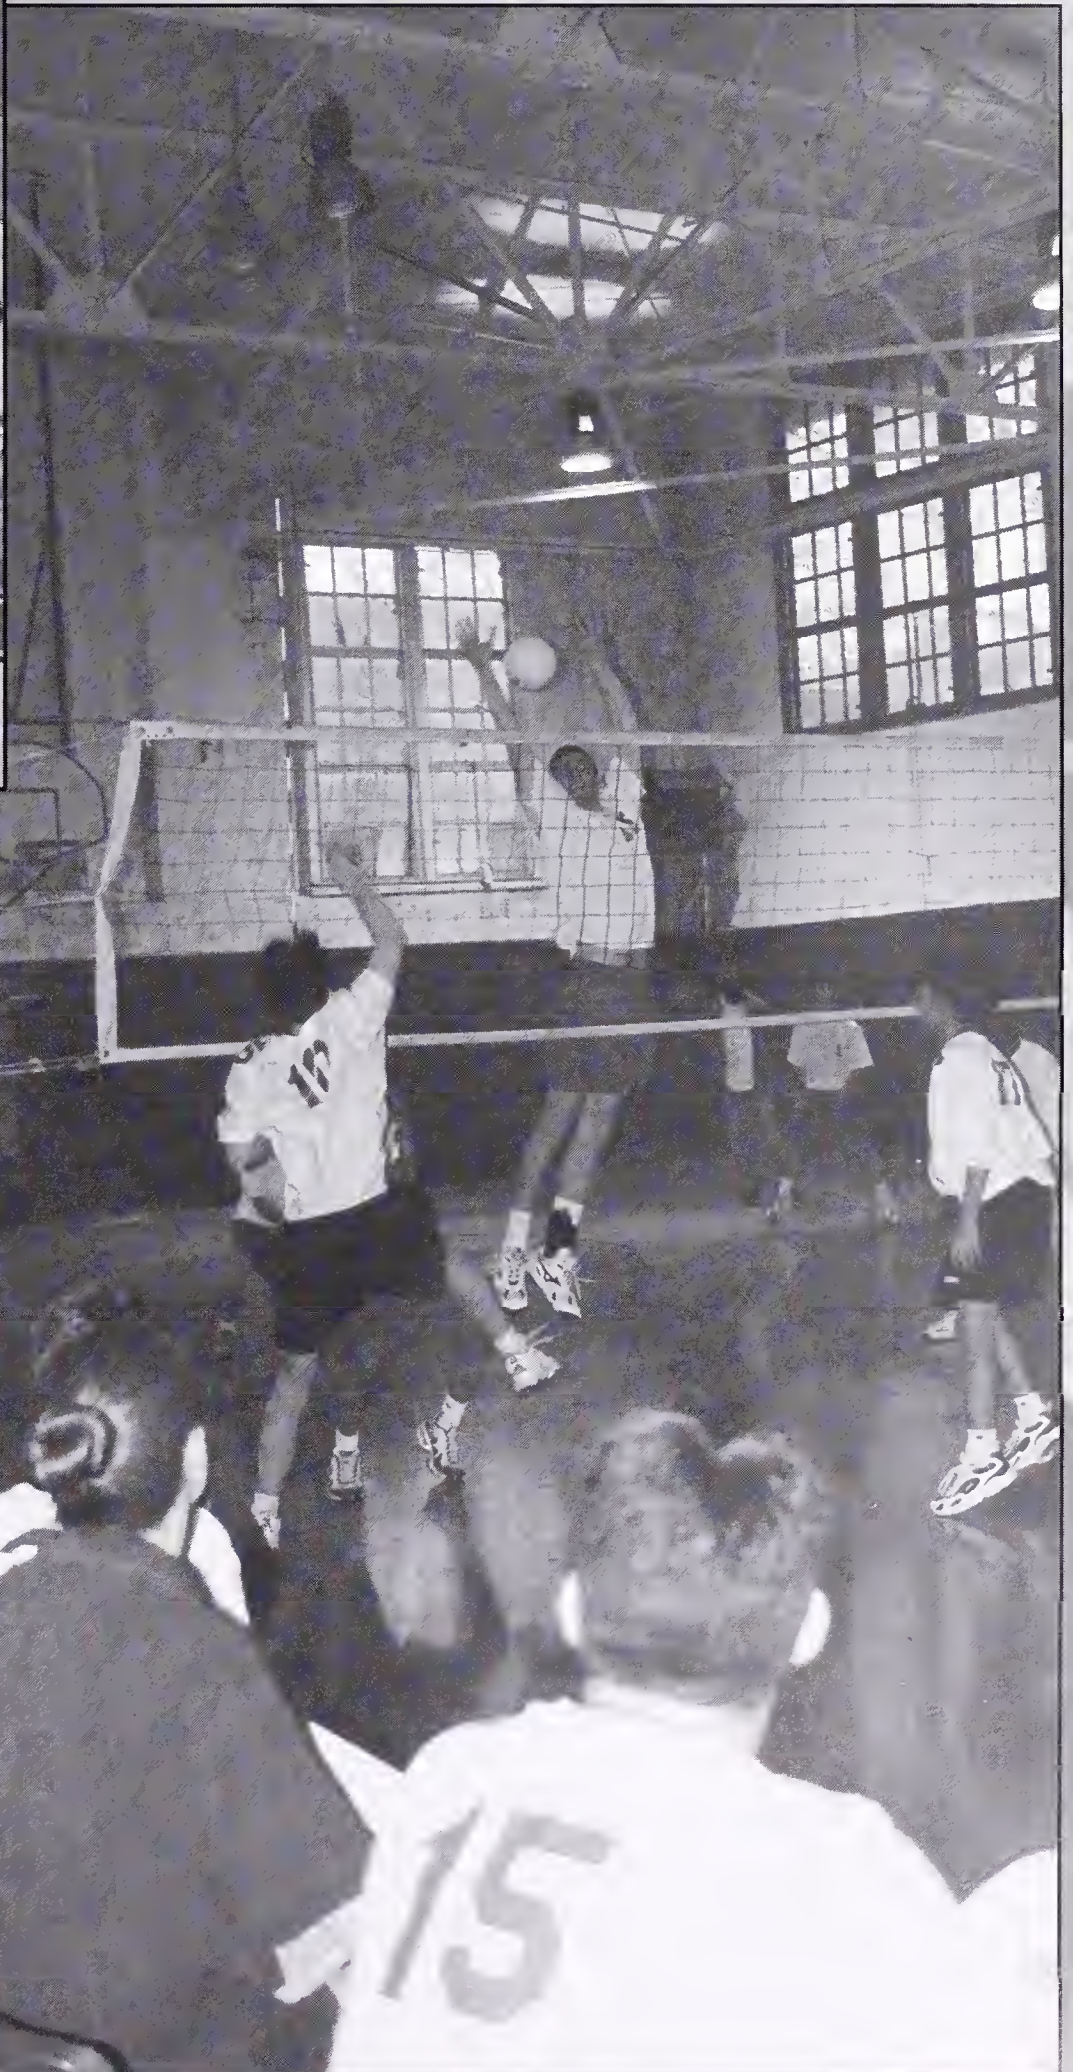

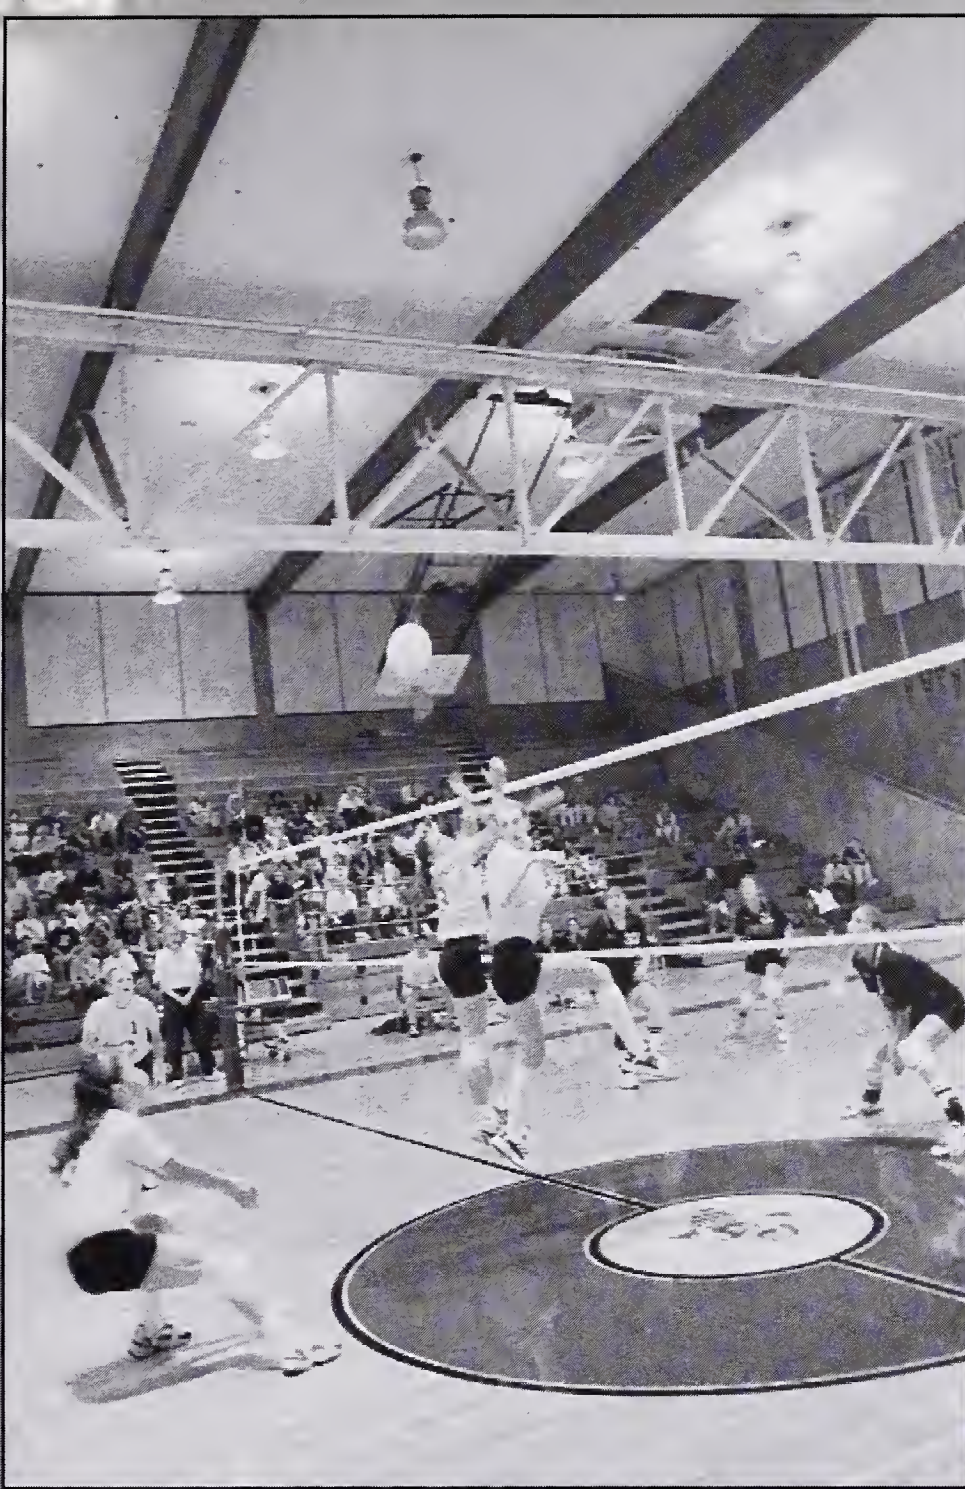

The team is presently 1-12, and although this is not the most attractive record, it is definitely an educational experience for the team. Like any inexperienced team, it will take a couple years before they prosper once again. But for now, the team is having fun during this learning process, and that's what Berkeley High is all about.

Women's Golf Team

Not until recently did hop scotch become a track and field event

This year, it seems like the Berkeley High Track and Field Team will concentrate more on improvement and motivation than on winning. This is because the team has suffered from some heavy losses this year. After losing nearly half of their participants due to academic eligibility, leaving them with only forty members, the team has not been able to keep up with the competition. However, the team does have a few stars. Sophomore Daveed Diggs is currently the team's best hurdler. At the top right in the photo is a freshman/sophomore division league record in the high hurdles. Along with this accomplishment, Diggs also won the men's 300 meter hurdles.

One of the team's strong female members is Simone Brooks who is an accomplished 100 and 200 meter runner, as well as a 100 meter hurdles runner, which Brooks says is her specialty. Luis Espalda, an experienced junior distance runner has also proved to be an asset for the team placing first in the 3200 meter race against Livermore.

While the team is lacking in numbers this year, only one runner is graduating and less than five of the members are juniors. The team continues to improve throughout the season which is a great indication of their potential. We can expect the track and field team to hurdle over the competition within the years to come.

The swim team has been a force to reconed with. So far this season, they've won 4 out of 5 of their meets.

YEAR

What, you think we're just in this for fun?

Hey Lisa, are you still at the Y?

Of course I'm still here. Do you really need to ask?

The 1997-1998 yearbook staff: where the revolution began.

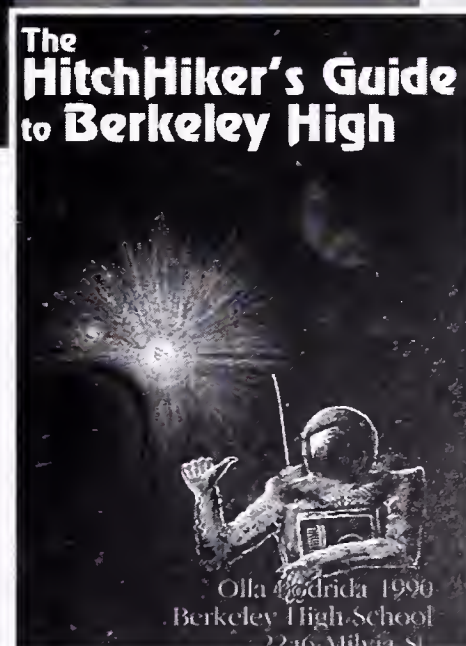

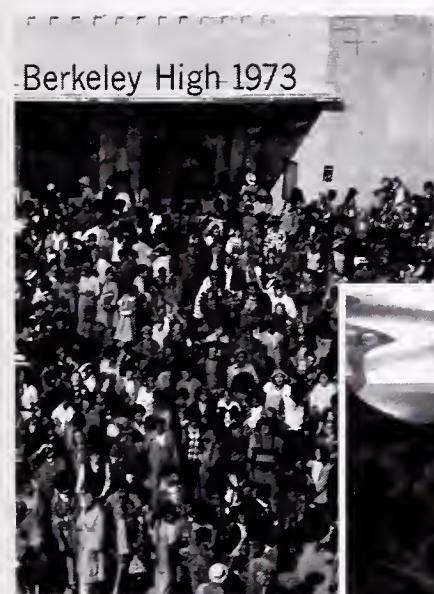

1997-1998 will be remembered for many reasons on the Olla Podrida staff. It was a year of change, both in the staff itself and in the yearbook. Walking into the new DTP in the H building on deadline day it was easy to tell that more than a few things had changed. For one thing, the yearbook was comprised almost solely of new people. This dedicated new staff got their work done well and ON TIME, something that hadn't been seen around BHS for many years. Also, Jesse "Vassar-time!" H-K and Dan "Mucho Macho (Mase)" T-G, the all knowing Editors-in-Chief, had wonderful new ideas about how to run yearbook, and more importantly, how to make a yearbook. Will history call them visionaries? Probably. But that's not what they were worried about. "Let the historians call them what they will!" said Aaron "the man's man" Sachs, one of the two masters' disciples and one of the two (all-new) Deadline Editors. "I for one know they were the best thing that ever happened to the BHS yearbook."

But that's not all that made this such a groundbreaking year around here. It was about people being people; making decisions, making mistakes, making friends. "I love you guys!" said Nancy "Stanford? Harvard? Whatever." Namkung, the other super hardcore Deadline Editor, on a particularly emotional day in the newly renovated Y-book office (thanks of course to Emiliana "handy-woman" Bean). Gabe "El señor de las computadoras" Bieniviste knew what was up and hooked us up with unforgettable art (such as Ebola Monkey and the cover) in DTP and otherwise. Dan "Puff Daddy" Gutin was in the house as never before, as well as Brian "Buddha" Ho and Sam "Easter-Egg" Hunt. Zack "Hoo-Ride" Thomsen-Gray just kicked it with Marcin "Foot-long Polish" Nadolny, Simone "Sorry I can't" Lawhun, Eleanor "I'm the" Mayer, and all the other saucy-ass seniors, juniors, and other staff that made 1998 the Revolution it was.

LITERARY MAGAZINE

What is Literature?..

Berkeley has an extraordinary number of talented writers, artists, and photographers who employ a variety of different styles and media. It is our job as the editorial staff of the Literary Magazine to demonstrate the full breadth of extraordinary talent BHS has to offer. Each day we review submissions in class. From these submissions we strive to select all of those which we feel are thought-provoking, innovative, entertaining, or of particular interest to our readership. Towards the end of each year we complete all of these works and lay them out as a book. In late May and early June we sell the published magazines to students, faculty, and the community. Buy one.

X-Files club

At the local high school, students crowd the halls mindlessly running off to their lunch period. Meanwhile a group of teachers gather in a dark room, light candles, turn themselves into reptiles and make frogs fall from the sky. Is this what really happens at BHS? Surprisingly not. It is an episode of the The X-Files.

Every Wednesday at lunch a group of BHS students get together to watch the show and discuss it's cool, intricate conspiracy stuff. Who knows if Mr. Lee is really a Venusian scout plotting his planet's conquest of earth.

The truth is out there, but where is it?

GH JACKET

Well, the Jacket managed to stay live and kickin' for another year, despite the piddlin' competition from all them other newspapers. As usual we rocked DTP and managed to turn our brand spankin' new computer room into a veritable pigsty before school even started.

Editors-in-chief Carolyn "Dictator" Kuo and Allison "All my exes live in Texas (Toner Gaffler)" Nowak headed our humble little publication, while still squeezing in fights with every single other editor on late nights. Hannah "Hannibal Cannibal" Boal and Flora "and fauna" Keilch managed to get all their physics and calculus done in between obtaining our three ads for the year and keeping their embezzlements from the rest of the staff. News editors Julia "I can't make late night cause I have a hair appointment in New York" Cosgrove and Hannah Karp "e Diem" learned the nuances of rewriting stories to appease the BHS administration gods and avoid their smiting wrath. The Opinion section managed to offend everyone with Yalda "Baldy" Vahdani heading it. And Jacket managed to cover beyond our old standby favorites of Badminton and Golf for the less ordinary when Dan "Pinkman" Greenman broadened his section from Women's Basketball to Men's Basketball. His own athletic talent of getting thrown out of a bowling alley makes him our sports editor premier. While Andy "Chess is for losers" Lee had to be restrained after being cut from the BHS JV chess team. Entertainment entered our Jacket hall of fame with the least number of graphics to ever appear in the section, with all credit due to Tom "B. Roach is dead and he's a snood addict" Hitchner. More record breakers were attained this year as the Jacket was rewarded the Best And Most Mug Shots Ever To Appear In One Edition award with the emphasis on still life. None of them pesky action shots for our photo editors, Eric "I love my pecs" Donaldson and Elizabeth "Mu-Mu" Lew. And finally there was Drew "Yes, I am an editor, please call me Puffy, and no I really don't do anything on late nights yet stay until they ask me to leave" Beck. And through it all was Rick "L.A. gear rules!" Ayers who guided us in spirit on late nights during his "meetings" at the Jupiter.

So, Jacket was off to a rough start, but near the end of the year we managed to gel. It's a lot like jello, where all the section editors are the bits of fruit that only touch the other fruits when the jello (that's the Jacket) shoves them together.

The Raza Unida Leadership Development Program is an 8th period course with the purpose of bringing together students who have the potential and desire to implement programs for empowering the latino community at BHS. Raza Unida is made up of three communities, Triunfo (success), Chicano and Latino graduation, ALAS (aspiring Latino's and Latina's affirming success mentorship program), and Paz y Dignidad (peace and dignity). Each committee accomplished it's individual goal together with the other two committees created Raza Unida (a united people). Triunfo sponsors workshops designed to increase Latino graduation rate. ALAS works on establishing a mentorship program which pairs Latino and Latina students from BHS with Latino and Latina mentors from Cal. Paz y Dignidad is responsible for publishing El Aguila y El Condor (the Eagle and the Condor).

TRUNIFO

ALAS

The Eagle represents North America and the condor represents South America. A native American prophecy states that 500 years after the conquest an eagle and a condor will meet on a mountain to signify the unity between all people of the Americas.

Raza Unida is an ambitious program designed to spark and maintain Latin students involvement and success at BHS. In addition to the committee work the class is structured around a series of leadership development workshops. Our goal is that the students enrolled in this class will go on to become inspirational, successful leaders in the Latino community and beyond. Eventually the success of these students and the community they are a part of will lead to the betterment of BHS as a whole. Viva La Raza!

California Scholarship Federation

Although CSF (California Scholarship Federation) was chill this year, they had another successful raffle to support college bound seniors. The approximate 400 students who maintained a 3.5 and above GPA contributed to the club's success. Thanks to all the officers and members. The officers are Simone, Amanda, Sara, Isaac, Becca, Kaijsa, Emiliana, Pavel, Albert, Inga, and Katherine.

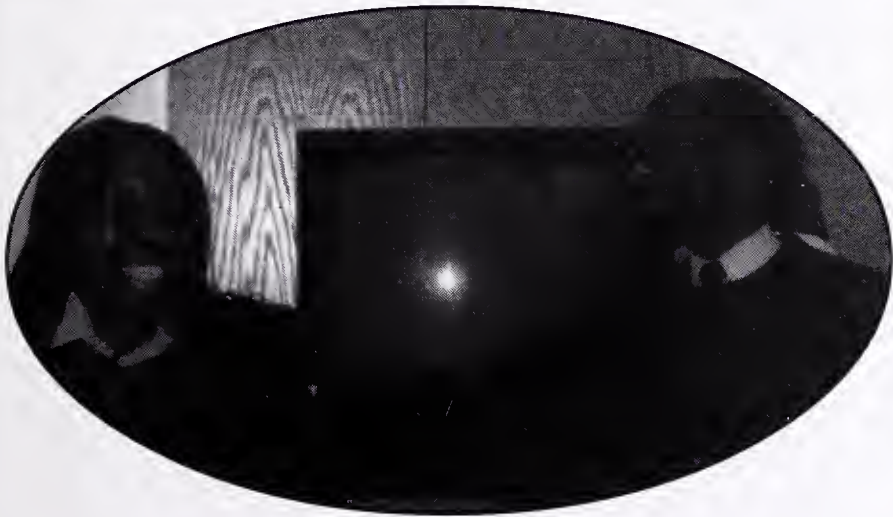

CSF was a lot less painful since they decided to reduce the number of meetings. Many of the members agreed that things were a lot better this year than it has been in the past. Here is a list of the few members of this fine club. Lisa, Nancy, Jesse, Maria, Sarah, Bridget, Rosalie, Diane, Betsy, Dan, Brian, Aaron, Katie, Rebecca, Carmelita, Eleanor, Kiri, Sam, and Aram. African American Student Union

The African American Student Union's goal is to make young black students know that being black is being powerful. They encourage students to ignore people who tell them that they can't make it in society just because they're black. It is ASA's job to make sure young black students know black is beautiful, powerful, and meaningful.

Youth United for Christ

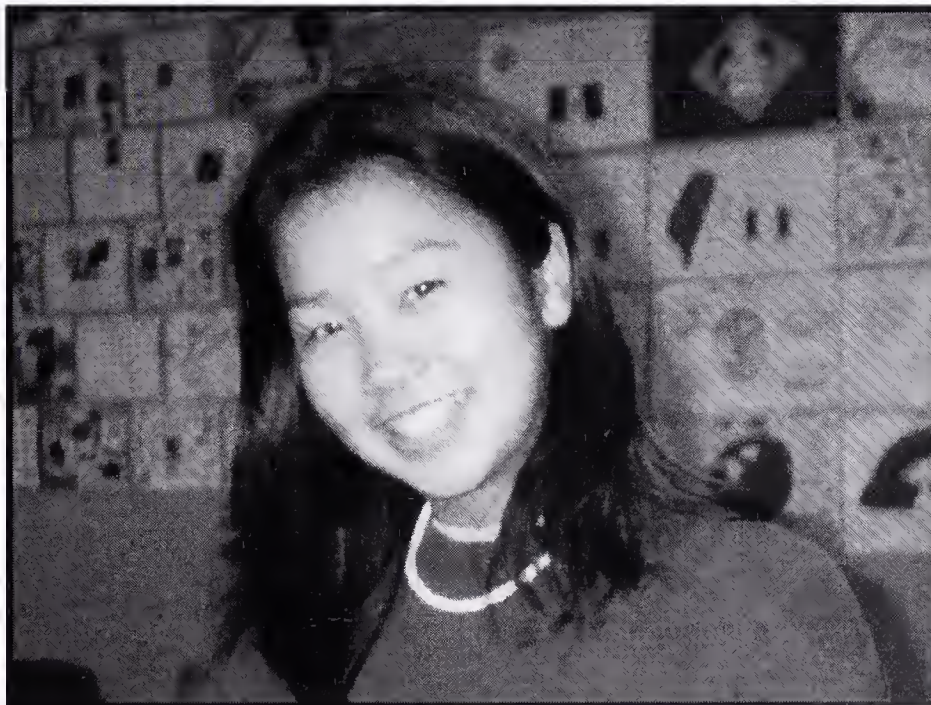

Youth United for Christ is a Christian fellowship group. It is their desire to grow in our relationship with God and each other. Each week they invite speakers, have Bible studies, or just get together for prayer. "Don't let anyone look down on you because you are young, but set an example for the believers in speech, in life, in love, in faith, and in purity."-1 Tim.4:12

ASIAN PACIFIC ISLANDER COMMITTEE

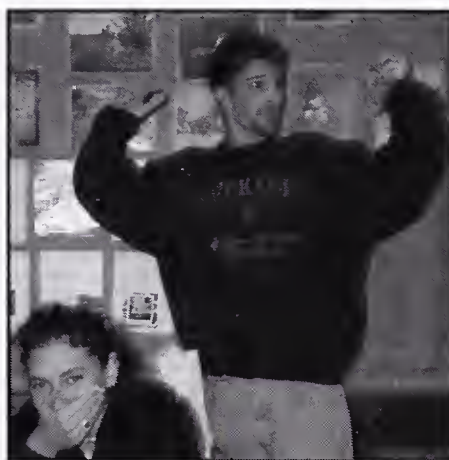

APIC is dedicated to the organizing and planning of an Asian Pacific Islander Cultural Festival. This festival is a one day celebration of the Asian culture designed for the education and awareness of all communities. At the festival, there is a vast variety of modern and traditional cultural performances, skits, and other entertainment. There are also informational booths and food booths for everyone. The students that organize this festival gain important leadership, communication, and organizational skills through this committee as well.

The Asian Pacific-Islander Student Union seeks to educate and inform people. We want to educate our community about being Asian. We also want to educate people about living beyond the stereotypes and showing everyone that Asians aren't just Chinese or Japanese. We inform our club members about special events throughout our community. They're encouraged to attend other meetings and help plan other events such as: Festival, Asian Graduation, forums, panels and the creation of new electives for our school.

Jewish Student Union

The Jewish Student Union is dedicated to educating the Berkeley community about the basics of Judaism. They do this by making presentations to ethnic studies and other classes at BHS describing Judaism as a culture, ethnicity, and religion. We also intend to develop a strong Jewish community by uniting with other schools to celebrate holidays and raise funds and donate money to needy causes.

Marcia Singman heads Dance Production and has for the past thirty years. Over the years she has achieved the perfect balance between instruction and creating a free and expressive environment for her students. Marcia is always available to her students for comments, ideas, and feedback on their choreography, but in terms of conceptual ideas, and the message to the audience, she lets her student's creativity run wild.

Above: Hey, I don't remember this dance!

Dance production is a class open first semester to Juniors and Seniors, by audition only. The class of about thirty students is formatted to culminate in a winter performance early in January composed of close to twenty student-choreographed dances. The performance is comprised of both comical and serious dances, and ranges from ballet to jazz to hip-hop to a mixture of all different genres. Students spend the first several weeks of class learning basic choreographic skills and learning to work creatively with each other, laying the foundation for the family-like atmosphere of this primarily student-motivated, labor-intensive class. The rest of first semester is spent by choreographing dances, learning dances, and voting on the pieces that will make it into the final performance. The class is run very democratically; not only do students vote on the dances to be shown in the performance, but they vote on designs for their Dance Production t-shirts, sweat shirts, programs, tickets, flyers, and they routinely have previews of their works in progress, so that choreographing students may receive constructive comments from their fellow dancers.

The award-winning, world renowned, Berkeley high Jazz Ensemble and Jazz program has once again, through hard work and blown chops, produced some of the most swinging music in the United States. After the Ensemble's successful and exciting European tour, culminating in a near-perfect performance at the Montreux Jazz Festival in Switzerland, the band returned home and were able to carry the energy throughout the school year. In addition to producing house-packed home concerts, the band burnt to a crisp all those other bands who think they can come close to Berkeley. The band played at Sonoma, Fulsome, Fullerton and the Monterey Jazz Festival, then came home, cleared off Charles Hamilton's shelf and tried to fit all those trophies in one place.

The smaller (in size but not in energy) Jazz Combo also played its share of gigs all around the bay area and cleaned up at all the festivals. By the end of the year the combo had honed its playing to a swinging, musical force.

The large (in size and energy) Jazz Lab Band also played extremely well, at the concerts and during class. The Lab Band assuaged all worries the jazz program may have had about it's musical future.

The Jazz Band wishes to give muchos gracias to Karen McKie and Berkeley.

You Can't Take This With You!

This year's fall play, "You Can't Take It With You" by Kaufman and Hart, was a comedy about a loving family whose members follow their hearts rather than participate in practicality. The play was set in the late 1930's just after The Great Depression. Twenty-three of Berkeley High's most dedicated performers set out to bring the Vanderhof/Sycamore household to life. Despite a rocky beginning, the final product set a new standard for BHS drama productions. The show featured Daveed Diggs in a convincing performance as Martin Vanderhof, the humorous grandfather and ever-constant voice of reason. In an equally convincing performance, Jennifer Reiter played Penny, the matriarch of the family, whose witty charm held the family together. Bridgett McGrath and Nick Nelson played the flirtatious young lovers caught in the middle. Also turning in brilliant performances were Lauren Nagel-Werd as a candy chef by day, ballerina by night, and Noam Biale, her insightful yet crude Russian dance instructor. And senior members of the cast Keelan Evans and Austyn Steelman's performances as a xylophone player and an uptight housewife were inspirational to generations of BHS students yet to come. Under the direction of Diane MacDonald, and with the assistance of BHS junior Ann Chernicoff and BHS alumna Dawn Williams, these twenty-three "virtuoso" actors were able to create and maintain credible and entertaining characters whose charming quirks and hobbies enthused and amused audiences for the run of the show.

Afro-Haitian

The Afro-Haitian classes are headed by Naomi Washington, Mama Washington to her students. Afro-Haitian as a class embodies powerful spirituality and deeply rooted culture through the authenticity of the dances, and the incorporation of live drumming for their performances. The ancient cultural integrity of Afro-Haitian is maintained through this course by the serious and respectful manner in which it is both taught and received by Mama Washington and her students. The Afro-Haitian classes performed their skillful art form at the Solano Sroll in late September, and again in a formal Berkeley High Concert in December. The dances and drumming are both exhilarating and entertaining, combining spirituality with the unique excitement of an exceptional perform

Baile Folklórico

Baile Folklórico is a class offered to students of all grades, both spring and fall semesters, as an arts credit or a P.E. credit. Students learn authentic Folklórico steps and techniques and throughout the class they compile their numerous skills to culminate in a semester-end appearance in the Dance Production or Dance Project dance performance. The dances are unique and interesting to watch, consisting of the dancers balancing candles on their heads as they dance, and even tying a long red sash in a knot with their feet! The costumes make these feats even more amazing as they require the dancers to balance in high-heeled shoes and carry the weight of their layered dresses. Baile Folklórico is a diverse and educational class, definitely providing instruction, but also skill, camaraderie and

The Chorus has had a wonderful year under the skillful tutelage of Mr. Brooks. Their enchanting, soulful singing has captivated many an ear especially at their winter concert. The Berkeley High Chorus is a tradition marked with excellence and beautiful music, and Mr. Brooks has been the instructor for over 11 years. This year's chorus preserved the reputation wonderfully. Often, early in the morning, their dulcet tones can be heard resonating along the Berkeley High halls.

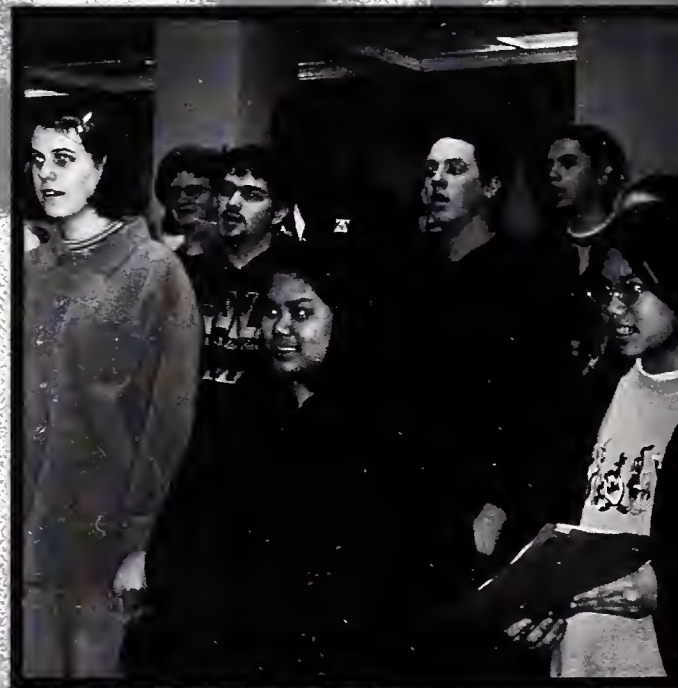

Mixed chorus is a class available to all where students are given inspiration and instruction in their singing. After a year of mixed chorus one can go on to Concert Chorale, a class where they not only sing but are taught music theory. One might think from the name and from Mr. Brooks' operatic birthday serenades of the C-Building. Many people think that Concert Chorale is a place where only classical music is sung. In actuality, there's a wide range of music performed, including music ranging along the spectrum all the way from Bach to Badu. Concert Chorale has proved itself to be a revolutionary, vocal force. Congratulations and sing on!

The Orchestra has had another bang-up year, coming together to truly bond as a group and making some wonderful music along the way. Under the loving care of Karen Wells, the orchestra was even able to incorporate two new instruments, the french horn and the trombone into their repertoire. Considering none of the french horn players had any clue as to how to play their instrument, it was astounding that they were able to pull off a perfect performance in just under 4 months. Karen managed to coordinate an entire hoard of students into a well-running group, capable of producing such great hits as the Hectic Overture. They were able to put on winter and spring concerts, two chamber concerts and even compete successfully in many music competitions.

SO THE REVOLUTION CONTINUES...

Our goal this year was to make you see things around you in a different light, and hopefully this book has done that. The message we bring you is simple: the future and the present of this community and this school, of this country and this world, rest on us. On you. We are in the unique position of being the masters of our fates at this school, of being in complete control of our own personal destinies. And, in a less direct way, the destiny of the community around us. Whether it is through taking advantage of some of the classes and departments that are only offered here at BHS, or getting involved in one of the student publications, remember that once your time at BHS is over, many of those opportunities will be gone forever.

Now it is time to draw the school year and this yearbook to a close.

This year's theme is somewhat hard to understand. The idea behind it was that we, the youth, could make a change, or had to make a change, in the world around us. That it is our duty to do our best to change the things in our society that we see as wrong. And that we can and should start those changes here, at Berkeley High School. This book is to serve as a wake-up call, and a reminder, and a challenge. A wake-up call, to those of us who think we can live our lives and let problems "just go away". A reminder, to those of us who knew once that we needed to take part in changing the world, but have forgotten. And a challenge to everyone to get involved, to make a difference, to do your part to make this place everything it can be. Please heed this call, and join our revolution.

"WORKERS OF THE
WORLD UNITE! THERE IS NOTHING TO LOSE BUT YOUR CHAINS. THERE IS A WORLD TO WIN."

-KARL MARX

"Independent Study is a great way to improve your communication skills because you work on a one on one basis with your teachers. The teachers are great and willing to give you all the extra help you need to make your grades better."

Nadirah Dotson, Grade: 12

"I was failing all of my classes at Berkeley High because I wasn't going to class. Now I go to school, do all of my work, am learning a lot and my G.P.A has gone up three points."

Sarah R., Grade: 11

"If you have Independent Study you can work at home where there's peace and sip a 7-11 Slurpee."

Manuel Cooper, grade: 11

"Independent Study challenges your mind as well as your self-discipline."

Aisa Shelly, Grade: 10

"Independent Study challenges me to progress in life. I need to keep an organized schedule, be able to communicate on a higher level, and do my work well and thoroughly."

Molly M. Jones, Grade: 12

"...You see us as you want to see us, in the simplest terms with the most convenient definitions, but what we found out is that each one of us is a brain, and an athlete, and a basket case, a princess and a criminal. Does that answer your question?"

Sincerely, The Breakfast Club

Independent Study is highly personalized learning program. Students meet once a week, either one on one or in small groups with each of their teachers. Independent Study students are Berkeley High School students and can participate in any or all of BHS extra curricular activities. A majority of BHS classes are offered at Independent Study, including P credit, AP, and lab science classes. Many students find Independent Study is the best way to achieve their educational and personal goals.

Tragically, Berkeley High experienced the loss of five members of its community this year. We all mourn for these young people who were taken from us and their families so senselessly. The death of so many so quickly came as a shock to all, and left us confused and grief-stricken. Proving once again that it takes a tragedy to bring people together, BHS students and staff united to console one another.

The following pages are devoted to the memory of those students that departed.

Their Journey has just Begun

Don't think of them as gone away
their journey has just begun
life holds so many different Personalities
the earth is only one

Just think of them as RESTING from the SORROWS and tears
in a place of warmth and comfort
where there are no days or years

They must be WISHING that we could know today
how nothing but our sadness
can only pass away

Think of them as living in the hearts
of those they touched
For nothing loved
is ever lost
and they were loved
so much

FOUND

AS I LOOK OUT THE WINDOW I START TO THINK
WHY DON'T PEOPLE CARE ANYMORE?
BUT ISN'T THAT THE QUESTION?
AS I LOOK PAST THE SUNSET I SEE A WORLD BEYOND MINE, FULL OF DREAMS.
THE DREAMS THAT WILL NEVER BECOME.
AS I SEARCH FOR A WORLD FULL OF LOVE AND HARMONY,
I KEEP ON WITHOUT END.
I DIE STRUGGLING TO FIND WHAT CAN'T BE FOUND.
AS I IMAGINE A HEART FULL OF PAIN I CRY,
TRYING TO HEAL THAT HEART THAT NO ONE CAN SAVE.
ALL HOPE IS GONE.
AS I LAY WITH MY EYES CLOSED I FIND WHAT I AM LOOKING FOR,
WHAT I'VE SEARCHED FOR, WHAT I IMAGINED.
I FIND EVERYTHING. I FIND ALL THIS IN PEACE.
NEVER DID I WAKE AGAIN. I FELL ASLEEP IN A DREAM FOREVER.
FINALLY I AM FOUND.

YOU HAVE A LOT OF LOVE HERE ON EARTH STILL YOUR MEMORY IS IN OUR HEARTS AND IN MY WILL STILL WE GO BY WONDERIN' WHY YOU DIED...
GOT US CRYIN', SHEDIN' TEARS THINKING OF THE YEARS
]WHEN YOU WERE STILL HERE -
IT WAS JUST A COUPLE OF DAYS AGO
SO HOW COULD YOU BE GONE?
IT'LL BE LONG BEFORE I'LL BE ABLE TO COPE
BUT I STILL HAVE HOPE, ALTHOUGH THE PAIN STICKS ME
IN THE GUT LIKE A KNIFE,
WE ARE GOING TO BE HERE CELEBRATING YOUR LIFE,
THINKING OF YOUR SMILE, OF YOUR LAUGH
WHICH I HEARD SO SELDOMLY
BUT I KNOW IT'S NOW HEAVENLY,
EVEN THOUGH THERE'S A MESS HERE,
YOU'VE BEEN RELIEVED OF THE STRESS HERE.
I'LL ALWAYS STOOP AND PRAY
AND REMEMBER THE DAY WHEN YOUR FACE LIT UP
THE WORLD, EVERY PART,
I'LL NEVER FORGET YOU J-SWOLES
YOU'LL ALWAYS LIVE IN MY HEART.

A Song

I think of you and wonder, I think and wonder, Why?
Why did you have to leave us, and leave us here to cry?
You were a shoulder we could cry on and now that shoulder's gone.
You lived life to it's fullest, and you were never wrong.

You always were a jester, and now we miss your fun.
Always bumming cigarettes, now you can't bum even one.
Always having happy trips, that never would go wrong.
Always had a song to sing, and your song still lingers on.

You always helped a friend in need, and now that help is gone.
You had a bright and shining soul, and that soul's moved on.
So many people care for you, and far too soon you've gone.
Even though we miss your love, our love for you is still strong.
